

6000 FISHERS STRIKE; TRIDAY TO BE FISHLESS

Boats of San Francisco Bay
Idle, Joining General Coast
Protest Against Price Control
by Director Weinstock

2500 Men Affected Here and Will Be Out of Work Until
New Methods Are Assured,
Say Fish Company Leaders

The warfare between the deep-sea fishermen and Harris Weinstock, state market director, came to a head today when the whole San Francisco bay delegation of fishermen joined the strike that has already involved Monterey, San Diego and other state fish markets. Some 500 boats were laid up today as a result of the strike, which renders 2500 men idle in the bay region. This makes a total of 6000 fishermen on a strike in the state.

Oakland and San Francisco are in a comparable situation. Joseph Lawrence of the Independent Fish Company of this city stated today that his boats had gone out for the day, but would follow the action of their San Francisco brethren.

NO EXCESSIVE PRICE FOR TOMORROW'S DEMAND
With this exception, there will be no fish moving into the local markets today from any offshore source. The tie-up promises to continue at least until Sunday, when the fishermen will meet again. It will continue after that time as well, they threaten, unless Weinstock shall have retired from his position. Weinstock refused today to make any comment whatever on the walk-out of the men.

Rock cod, salmon, sea bass and other deep sea products will disappear from the fish stalls and the tables at home. The supply of fish is exhausted as a result of the strike. There is about enough fish on hand, according to dealers, to supply the demand in the bay cities today, with a small remnant possibly left over. There will not be enough to supply tomorrow's demand. The crab industry will also be affected. Sacramento river fishermen are also considering joining the strike, which would cut off the local fresh water supply.

PRICE TO FISHERMEN OCT BY WEINSTOCK
The strike followed a meeting of the men held last night at Fishermen's wharf at San Francisco. Fish dealers say the strike is complete. They claim that 5000 to 4000 men are out, but other estimates put the number at slightly less than their minimum figure. At Monterey and other fishing ports southward in California 6000 others are said to have struck.

The local strike is in a measure a continuation of the problem met at Sacramento by State Senator William S. Scott of San Francisco. Scott has a bill before the Senate to take the control of the fish market away from Weinstock. The fishermen have been out 7 cents a pound by Weinstock in the last week without corresponding retail reduction.

COMPLAIN AGAINST ARBITRARY PRICE
Following a hearing on his bill before the senate fish and game committee several days ago, at which the fishermen voiced their opposition to Colonel Weinstock's state fish price control, Scott is active at Monterey ordered a reduction in prices paid to the fishermen for salmon from 14 to 10 cents, it is stated. This price, according to representatives of the fishermen, is not sufficient to cover the cost of sending out their boats.

Their general complaint is that the prices fixed by the state fish exchanges are arbitrary. During the 1918 season, while every patriotic effort was being bent toward the production of food, the exchange, under Colonel Weinstock's direction, fixed the price for salmon at 10 cents. The fishermen, they state, was raised by Ralph P. Merritt, federal food administrator, to 9 1/2 cents. The fishermen quote Merritt as saying at the time that the exchange price was "a fair price for the fisherman." Merritt is now in Sacramento and they have invoked his support for their demands. The fishermen want to abolish all fixing of prices except such as may be fixed by "law of supply and demand."

The present strike of local fishermen is due to a radical and I. W. W. element among the members of the fishermen's union. The statement made by Secretary Fred Bigelow of Market Director Harris Weinstock's office here today, "It will probably result in a sympathetic strike up and down the coast," Bigelow said. "There have been no protests made by the San Francisco fishermen to any action taken by Director Weinstock. The rank and file of the members wished to go out in their boats, but are influenced against it by the radicals and I. W. W.'s. Many of the latter organization know the law, and they see, or think they see, an opportunity now to throw off the influence of the legislative law which governs the price of fish. They expect to be present at the meeting Sunday and hear the grievances of the members of the unions."

War Socialists Ask for Pardon of Debs
WASHINGTON, April 3.—President Wilson has been formally asked to grant reprieve to Eugene V. Debs, found guilty and sentenced to ten years imprisonment under the espionage law, it was announced at the White House today.

The application is now in the hands of the attorney-general, and his recommendation is expected to be forwarded to the President in a few days. The request was signed by Frank P. Walsh, Charles Edward Russell and Allen Benson.

Millionaire's Daughter Elopes With Hotel Bus Boy; Caught As They Get Wedding License

FRANCIS H. GRAY.
Missing Frances Gray
Finally Located in San Diego

SAN DIEGO, Cal., April 3.—Miss Frances H. Gray, daughter of Gregory W. Gray, Chicago millionaire, who disappeared from the Hotel Maryland in Pasadena under mysterious circumstances, was located here this morning in company with Joseph Cardenas, formerly a bus boy from the Maryland, according to the police.

The pair were taken into custody as they were taking out a marriage license in the county clerk's office. The license was partly made out when the officers interfered.

Cardenas, who says he is the son of a wealthy coffee planter in San Salvador, declared he intends to marry the girl who, he says, was unhappy with the Grays. He met her while working in the Hotel Maryland cafe.

Cardenas, who is 21 years of age, says he is a university graduate, studied law and went to Pasadena to practice law. Meeting with little success there, he came to San Diego, where he worked in a restaurant. Later going to Pasadena, he met the girl who, he says, was unhappy with the Grays. He met her while working in the Hotel Maryland cafe.

"My family is every bit as good as hers," he asserted.

GIRL IS "BILLY WHITE."
The girl still insists that her real name is "Billy White" and that she was substituted for the real Frances Gray four years ago. She says she originally came from Oregon. Miss Gray, she declares, is now on a ranch near Galveston, Texas.

Cardenas was lodged in the county jail. He was taken to the jail after he was being taken away. She says she wants to remain with him. She is being detained by the police.

They have been living at a local apartment since their arrival here, not applying for a marriage license for fear of discovery.

A telegram from the Pasadena chief of police requested that both be held.

"Our case was one of love at first sight," Miss Gray admitted to officers. "I hope to marry him yet."

"My family is really and truly influential in San Salvador," asserted Cardenas. "I am able to care for a wife and can give Miss Gray as much luxury as she has been accustomed to. She loves me and wishes to marry me. Her parents will never give their consent to our marriage, but it is out of their hands. We have the right to marry. Miss Gray is 19 and I am 21. We are both of legal age."

The girl declares that she does not want to return to Pasadena, and says that the Grays have no right to prevent her marriage.

"I am not Frances Gray," she declared firmly. "I took her place in the Gray household four years ago. My name is Billy White, and I came from Oregon. Frances Gray will be found on a ranch near Galveston, Texas."

Miss Gray is a beautiful brunette, with trim, girlish figure and large, appealing dark eyes. She was largely dressed in a day suit, and wore a tailored suit and carried herself with grace and poise.

MOTHER ADVERTISES FOR GIRL
PASADENA, April 3.—Shortly before it became known here that 19-year-old Frances Gray had been located, a big black-bordered advertisement appeared in a paper reading:

"Frances H. Gray: Mother, father and all of your friends want you to come back. We love you very dearly, so do not be afraid to come back. We will give you a very large allowance, and anything you wish. Please come."

(Signed) "MAMMA."

When the girl disappeared she left a note for her parents, saying she was not her father's daughter, but was "Billy W."

Both the mother and the father, George W. Gray, millionaire, and his wife, maintained that reading fiction had worked upon an imaginative temperament until their daughter really believed she was "Billy W." and not Frances Gray. It was as "Billy W." that she signed herself to the note she left her parents when she disappeared from the Hotel Maryland here Tuesday.

Here is the girl's letter of farewell:

"Dear Mrs. Gray: You will wonder why I left, well, I will tell you. Your daughter, Frances, left you in 1915 and I have been taking her place. I look very much like your daughter. I have been taken for her sister. She is somewhere, I can't tell where, and is happy. I am leaving for the same reason as she left. Frances says she will not come back. My name is Billy, so you can see I am not your daughter. Thank you many, many times for the wonderful things you have given me, and lately the parties and so on. I appreciated every one of them. Love to both you and dear Mr. Gray."

(Signed) "BILLY W."

Both Mr. and Mrs. Gray declare any intimation that the missing girl is not their daughter Frances is ridiculous.

"There will be no consent to a marriage," said the girl's father to day shortly before he departed for San Diego.

HARRISON TO WED GIRL 18, IF--MAY BE!

Governor of Philippines to Come to Berkeley to Claim
Miss Elizabeth Wrentham—
But Mother Says It Can't Be

"Why, He's Twice Her Age, and It Would Be Folly";
Parent Says Engagement
Has Never Been Announced

Eighteen-year-old Elizabeth S. Wrentham, daughter of Dean Clarence G. Wrentham of the University of the Philippines, is in Berkeley today, waiting impatiently until her affianced husband, Governor Francis Burton Harrison of the Philippines, arrives to claim her. In the meantime she is studying as a second-year student at the University of California.

Governor Harrison is in New York and the date of his arrival here is not known to Mrs. Wrentham, who, with another daughter, more, who, with two other daughters, is living at 2242 Bancroft way, Berkeley. Furthermore, so far as Mrs. Wrentham is concerned, his arrival is not desired and, if she can prevent it, there will be no marriage.

HARRISON EXPECTS TO COME TO BERKELEY
Governor Harrison arrived in New York today, after a hunting trip in the South, and announced there that he expected to leave shortly for Berkeley. It is understood that he will be accompanied by his two children, one of them virtually the same age as their prospective stepmother.

Miss Wrentham was not available today, and her mother expressed herself as to the subject. She said, however, that "if I can help it, there will be no marriage."

Mrs. Wrentham called attention to the fact that Governor Harrison is twice her age, and that the young woman he hopes to make his wife, said:

"We are in hopes that we can save the child from the folly she contemplates," as it is to be understood that she is to be married to the subject. She said, however, that "if I can help it, there will be no marriage."

Further, she cited the disparity in ages. Mrs. Wrentham declined to discuss any reason for objection to the engagement, which, she said, had been announced by Dean Wrentham to her.

"There are certain kinds of men," she said, "who like to see their names in the public eye," and with that cryptic remark she dropped the subject of Governor Francis Harrison except to say, "My daughter shall never marry that man."

Mrs. Wrentham would not discuss the circumstances under which her daughter met Governor Harrison, but she gave it to be understood that in the opinion of the parents, the young woman's feeling for the man is akin to an infatuation that would be dispelled by absence for a few days.

HARRISON MARRIED TWICE; DIVORCED ONCE
Francis Burton Harrison was born in December, 1873. He was married the first time to Mary Crocker of San Francisco in June, 1900. This wife died in 1905.

The second wife, Mabel Judson Harrison, to whom he was married in 1907, obtained a divorce in San Diego in 1918. He was charged with desertion and was given the custody of their two children and $15,000 a year alimony.

The children of the first union have been with their aunt, Mrs. Charles Tompkins Crocker, who has been in New York for several months. It is probable that they will come West with her some time before June.

JAPAN LAND LEASING IS PUT UP TO PRESIDENT

SACRAMENTO, April 3.—President Wilson must be the judge of whether or not Senator Inman's anti-Japanese land leasing bill is going to be put before the California Legislature. This was the stand taken this morning by a majority of senators after one of the most heated debates of the Senate session. Action on Inman's request to introduce the bill was deferred. The rules committee members were opposed to the measure, which would embarrass the peace conference.

Senator Kohoe introduced a formal motion that further consideration of the committee report be postponed pending receipt of advice from the peace delegation whether the proposed measure would embarrass the peace conference proceedings. On motion of Senator Inman this proposal was continued until this afternoon in order that a cablegram from President Wilson might be drafted. The bill would meet with the approval of both sides to the controversy.

"This is not a local affair," said Senator Reed. "It is one that affects the entire United States and probably all of civilization."

"I want to call attention to the fact that Japan is an ally of the United States in the war that is not over," he said.

"Europe, and in fact the whole world, is sleeping on a powder keg and I insist that the senate of the state of California do not set a bad example."

"I would like to ask of the opponents of this measure, who say that this is not an opportune time for its introduction, when they would have it introduced at an opportune time," asked Inman.

TOKYO, April 3.—Despite the severe repressive measures taken by the Japanese, the agitators in Korea for independence are growing worse, according to information from Seoul today.

A telegram from a British missionary describes how 200 Koreans marched through the streets of Seoul, shouting, "Give us independence!"

Soldiers dispersed the crowd at the point of the bayonet. Fugitives were pursued into the grounds of private houses, where they were bayoneted, the missionary said.

SPA, Wednesday, April 2.—Mathias Erzberger, head of the German armistice commission, arrived here today, accompanied by a number of technical and other advisers, including the chief burgmaster of Danzig. Before leaving Berlin Erzberger had a final consultation with representatives of all parties at which an agreement was reached as to the attitude to be adopted in negotiations with allied representatives here. It seems that the sentiment of the Germans is favorable to a settlement of the Danzig controversy. Marshal Foch's train is due here at 8:30 o'clock tomorrow morning and the conference, at which the Danzig question will be settled, is fixed for 10 o'clock at Vauxubers, residence of General Naudin.

PARIS, April 3.—Important economic concessions to the soviet governments in Russia and Hungary were being considered by the "big four" today.

The allies, it was understood, are practically convinced that the situation in those two countries demands immediate attention, and that some sort of understanding with their governments is as urgent as peace with Germany.

Food shipments to Russia and Hungary and coal exportation to the latter country, probably under concession to the allies in return for food and fuel. The new government, according to these advisers, is consolidating its position and giving every evidence of a firm and stable government.

Good order prevails. Hungarian leaders are still stressing the fact that government is "communist" as distinguished from the Russian Bolshevik system. Proper selection, it was said, does not apply to Americans.

In case the "big four" should decide to send food to Russia, it is believed that strict provisions would be made for the soviet government to cease hostilities and permit the states which have broken away from the Bolsheviks to decide their own fate. There is reason to believe, it was learned from reliable sources, that Russia is ready to "behave" if she can have food.

Oakland Found Healthiest City in United States

Oakland is the healthiest city in the United States, according to the mortality reports of the census bureau of the United States government for the week ending March 22, which have just reached here. The death rate of Oakland was 10.7 per thousand of population as against 18.6 per thousand in forty of the largest cities of the country.

Louisville, Ky., has the highest death rate with 38.5 per thousand of population. The nearest city to Oakland is Birmingham, Ala., with a death rate of 13.7 per thousand.

In the forty largest cities there were 721 deaths from "flu" during the week ending March 22. In Oakland only one death was reported as a result of the epidemic.

U.S. OCCUPATION ARMY WILL BE RELEASED SOON
LONDON, April 3.—The situation in the Marne region of northern France is giving the British military authorities considerable anxiety. An announcement was made today that British relief committees will follow immediately the American troops now on the way to north Russia.

WASHINGTON, April 3.—Soldiers in the American army of occupation will be released as rapidly as volunteers can be sent to the war department stated today in a cable to General Pershing.

Pershing was instructed to select the most meritorious cases from among his drafted men and those who enlisted for the war for priority in returning. The war department also revealed the proportion in which men are being enlisted for the various branches of the service. The cable to Pershing read:

"We are now enlisting for three years, 50,000 volunteers as follows: 25,000 infantry, 10,000 artillery, 6,000 engineers, 3,000 medical department, 2,000 cavalry."

"These will be sent you in detachments of 1000 or less to the army of occupation. Upon arrival of each detachment, return to the United States for discharge equal number of men enlisted or drafted for emergency service. Most meritorious cases, preferably those who fall under circular 77, W. D., 1918, and those with class A and class B allotments."

The circular No. 77 referred to in the cable to General Pershing provides that preference in discharges shall be given to soldiers who are fathers of families, who are industrial workers or whose families have sickness or other distress.

Dynamite in Stove; Family Escapes Harm
FRESNO, Cal., April 3.—Dynamite which exploded today with great force in the home of Alfred Bartlett, 77, wealthy owner of the Bartlett black, drew 1000 jagged pieces of iron like shrapnel past Bartlett and two others.

Bartlett was not wounded, but Mrs. H. Arrowsmith, his daughter, and two 12-year-old granddaughters, were wounded slightly. Their escape was considered miraculous.

"That the dynamite was placed in the stove in the Bartlett home for emergency service, according to police theory, they promise arrests soon."

Bartlett was seated seven feet from the stove. An iron slab a foot long and four inches thick was found. Many of the iron pieces were found imbedded two inches in the woodwork.

More Than 150,000 Walk Out in Berlin; Troops Opposite American Army of Occupation Rushed to Hamburg

By FRANK J. TAYLOR.
United Press Staff Correspondent.
BERLIN, April 3.—Foreign Minister Bela Kun of the Hungarian soviet government has arrived at Munich for the purpose of forming an alliance between the Hungarian, Austrian and Bavarian soviets, the Deutsche Zeitung declared today.

The report could not be verified. The general strike is growing throughout Germany and under 100,000 men are now out in the Ruhr industrial district and half the miners in the Rhineland are not working.

More than 150,000 workers went on strike in Berlin late yesterday. Metal workers, technicians and other skilled craftsmen were the first to walk out. They were quickly followed by several other trades unions.

While the strike had been anticipated for several days, it was believed it might be postponed until next week and the sudden walkout caught the government forces unprepared. There was no violence, however, and the city was quiet last night.

The Freiheit has published the following appeal of the radical center committee:

"Workers and workwomen: Rise and demonstrate against the brutal military government, which is gradually placing the entire land under a state of siege. The government is halting workers' meetings and it is not hindering the demonstrations of the reactionaries."

The Freiheit is preparing to use every force to crush any demonstrations.

OUTRAGES RENEWED IN OTHER CITIES.
Reports reaching here have indicated that disturbances have been renewed in Stuttgart and Frankfurt with greater vigor than before. More than twenty persons have been killed and fifty wounded in Stuttgart. Business is completely at a standstill. A general strike has been called, and the streets are being patrolled by the police.

In Frankfurt hundreds of persons have been arrested. Loss from plundering is estimated at more than a million dollars.

LONDON, April 3.—Fears are felt in military circles here that a widespread revolt is imminent in Germany and that the country may be a matter of days from being a Bolshevik state, which is now in the grip of the reds.

Later the country may come under the domination of the imperialists.

The Lenin regime in Russia is reported once more to be tottering as the result of the general misery in that country. There is a national famine in Russia and 14,000 deaths were reported by a single hospital in Petrograd.

The Russian fleet in the Baltic is believed to have pointed at a coup d'etat, while Leon Trotsky, the Bolshevik war minister, has been busy engaged in strengthening the defenses of Petrograd and attempting to keep the army loyal.

COBLENZ TROOPS ON WAY TO HAIT REDS.
COBLENZ, April 3.—(By The Associated Press.)—German troops opposite the Coblenz bridgehead began moving early Thursday toward Frankfurt, where a Spartacist revolt has been causing disorder.

Before entering Frankfurt, which is in the neutral zone beyond the French bridgehead based on Mayence, the German military authorities had to obtain permission from the French tenth army.

According to information reaching Frankfurt today, the German troops were ordered to march through the streets. The mob stormed a large warehouse and the members helped themselves to food stored there. Handcuffed baskets and sacks with food of various kinds.

Street fighting followed an attempt by the local authorities to gain control of the situation. The German troops opposite the American bridgehead were then called on for help.

Tells His Side of Story; Is Convicted
If Joe Silvia hadn't insisted upon telling his side of the case when he was charged with stealing his brother's bicycle he would not have been found guilty. But after the state had presented its evidence Silvia tried to explain. In doing so he admitted the theft of at least the frame of his brother's bicycle. Judge Samuels said this morning in sentencing him to pay a fine of $20 or spend ten days in jail. Judge Samuels found that the brother owned the frame, Joe the wheels and that the ownership of the handlebars had not been established, but ruled that, inasmuch as the frame had been taken away on wheels, it would have to be returned on wheels.

MEXICO BARS ALL JAPANESE FROM BORDER

MEXICO CITY, April 3.—(By The Associated Press.)—"In Lower California there are various foreign enterprises, among which are one or two Japanese, to which have been given concessions for the exploitation of certain natural resources in various places, but none of them has been permitted, nor will be permitted, to acquire tracts of land, because the constitution prohibits this definitely," was a statement made today by General Amado Aguirre, under secretary of agriculture and development.

"Naturally there has been a respect for those companies holding concessions which have always complied with the stipulations of their contracts, but some companies, among them the Mexican Land company, have had the constitution nullified for not having complied with all their provisions. These concessions will be duly and legally liquidated. Those interests which are large holdings will be obliged to divide them, and nobody will be given more than 2500 acres."

BARRIED FROM FRONTIER.
General Aguirre declared the government had not and would not allow foreign interests to obtain lands in Lower California, and pointed out that article 27 of the constitution prohibits foreigners from holding lands within sixty miles of a frontier and thirty miles of a sea coast. He said that under these provisions, because of the geographical situation of Lower California, it would be virtually impossible for foreign interests to secure any considerable tract of land in the interior, because of the narrowness of the peninsula.

Regarding concessions held by foreigners, the under-secretary stated that among those holding fishing rights were both Japanese and Norwegians, but he made it plain that no foreign interests held rights to land along the coast.

FISHING RIGHTS ONLY.
Discussing an interview with him by a representative of the newspaper Excelsior of this city on March 29, which was embodied in an Associated Press dispatch of that date, General Aguirre declared it was inaccurate in some respects. In talking up this interview at length, it was pointed out that, "the concessions were fully authorized by the provisions of the constitution," which he said, "absolutely prohibited the sentence stating Japanese corporations have been granted concessions to exploit agriculture lands in Lower California" of any meaning that would cause them, since the geographical configuration of Lower California and constitutional provisions regarding zones barred to foreigners absolutely prohibited large holdings.

The under-secretary declared, however, that the dispatch was incorrect in that the only concessions granted were five year permits to conduct fishing operations, which permits allow no land or port holdings.

General Aguirre stated that when asked regarding the reported concessions by General T. Sumnerlin, ed interior charge of the American embassy here, he informed the American diplomat of the facts substantially as given in his statement quoted above.

Baron Puigstaro Otero, Japanese minister to Mexico, stated yesterday that the only agricultural interests held by his countrymen were small rice lands near Mexico, which he said were absolutely without importance.

Not Too Proud to Fight: Japan "Simple Justice," Plea of Marino May Withdraw From League Plan

PARIS, April 3 (By the Associated Press).—"No Asiatic nation could be happy in a League of Nations in which racial discrimination is maintained. Baron Makino, head of the Japanese delegation to the peace conference, declared in a statement to the Associated Press on the position of Japan.

"We are not too proud to fight," the baron said; "but we are too proud to accept a place of admitted inferiority in dealing with one of our associates. We want nothing but simple justice."

Japan is glad to join a League of Nations to maintain peace and order, the baron added.

Japan does not wish, he continued, to force racial or labor discrimination on any associate countries and recognizes that this question is one for each nation to deal with itself.

Japan feels that it is entitled to a frank and open admission by the allies that the principle of equity and justice is a fundamental tenet of the League of Nations," the baron continued.

DIFFICULTY AHEAD.
Japan sees difficulties in the way of a permanent and successful operation of the league, the baron asserted, unless the contracting parties enter it with mutual respect.

The baron said:

"You ask me for a plain and frank statement of the position of Japan. Well, I am tempted to ask you a question in reply.

"Do you think it possible for me to say anything that will not be willfully distorted and misinterpreted by those who have so long and so persistently sought to clog the efforts of my country, to ascribe to her motives she has never had and to malign her at every turn. Let us see."

"As in the United States, Japan has a very sincere, abiding and affectionate regard. We owe to her our place in the world, that is to say, the civilized world.

"Perhaps I should not altogether agree to that phrase because, you know and every one should know, that Japan has enjoyed a civilization all her own for many ages. It was a civilization born of highest sense of honor, of a sense which the West could not understand nor appreciate because we had lived apart as a hermit nation.

BECAME AMBITIOUS.
"When, through the expedition of Commodore Perry and the efforts of Townsend Harris, we joined, if I may say so, the league of nations of the world, we took on a new ambition which was to interpret the civilization of the Western nations which we had studied and imitated as better, although not all were more honorable, than our own.

"You will note here that America was the first country to agree to make a treaty with us abolishing extra-territoriality.

"You must remember that we did not ask to join this first league of nations. We were forced to do so.

General Aguirre stated that when asked regarding the reported concessions by General T. Sumnerlin, ed interior charge of the American embassy here, he informed the American diplomat of the facts substantially as given in his statement quoted above.

Baron Puigstaro Otero, Japanese minister to Mexico, stated yesterday that the only agricultural interests held by his countrymen were small rice lands near Mexico, which he said were absolutely without importance.

After Clay had proposed to her five times, Miss Olmo said "yes." He moved to Burlington and invited her to pick out the site for their "mansions." She chose two acres. It was in January that the first met Clay, who had come to San Francisco to recuperate from wounds received on the French front.

But now, according to Miss Olmo, her former lover is in Shanghai with another love, who was formerly Miss Gladys Welch, residing at Hotel Stewart.

BROKEN PROMISE WILL COST $7500

SAN FRANCISCO, April 3.—It cost Samuel John Clay, member of a wealthy Australian family and a soldier, $7500 to bluff with the affections of Louise Loretta Olmo, formerly a nurse in the city and county hospital.

Judge Flood named the extent of the damages yesterday. Miss Olmo, who resides at 1302 Potrero avenue, says she will perfect the judgment and bring suit in Australia to collect the small fortune.

After Clay had proposed to her five times, Miss Olmo said "yes." He moved to Burlington and invited her to pick out the site for their "mansions." She chose two acres. It was in January that the first met Clay, who had come to San Francisco to recuperate from wounds received on the French front.

Berkeley Engineer Back from Germany

Lieutenant Henry F. Power of Company A, 37th Regiment Engineers, has arrived at Camp Lewis, Washington, in command of a contingent from his regiment for demobilization. Lieutenant Power's home is in Berkeley at 3301 College avenue, and he was formerly construction engineer for a Berkeley firm.

Lieutenant Power's regiment operated principally in the Toul sector with the First Army, its work comprising the installation and operation of electrical units and high tension lines and the construction and maintenance of wire entanglements in "No Man's Land."

After the armistice was declared this regiment took command of two German trains following the Huns into Germany as they retired. It proceeded as far as Coblenz, as well as to Trier, farther up the Moselle, to establish general headquarters. The 37th was the first military organization to enter Germany as well as the first to return from Germany to the United States.

A. Schultz, Horseman, Dies After Surgery

A Schultz, a wealthy rancher and breeder of racing stock, who has resided at Hotel Oakland for several years, died last night at Providence hospital following an operation for appendicitis. During the Panama Pacific Exposition, Schultz took first prizes for his thoroughbred stock. His horses were known on the tracks at Reno, Nevada, and at Ta. Juan Schultz owned stables in Pleasanton, where he had large property holdings, and an extensive ranch in Oregon. He was 50 years old.

No arrangements have been made for the funeral and interment.

NURSE MURDER TO BE CLEARED UP TOMORROW

"The man responsible for Miss Inez Elizabeth Reed's death is known, but we cannot charge him as being an accessory to the criminal operation which caused her death," said Captain Matheson, chief of detectives in San Francisco, this morning. "We have an ace in the hole," and the Reed case will be cleared up tomorrow. The fact that jewelry found in the fireplace of the San Mateo house was not Miss Reed's strengthened rather than weakened the case, which we will turn over to the San Mateo authorities."

Captain Matheson refused to comment upon the "ace in the hole," but is believed to be a full and complete statement by Mrs. Frances Cronin, the nurse of Dr. Northcott.

When asked if the driver of the car which carried Miss Reed's body to a point on Crystal Lake road, and there assisted in throwing it into the ravine, would be arrested tomorrow, Captain Matheson said: "Yes. 'The case is airtight and complete. I am only waiting for the report of officers tomorrow before making the final arrests in this matter.'"

Captain Matheson's friend and confidant of Miss Reed, is again a figure in the spotlight of police investigation of the death of Miss Reed.

Captain Matheson stated yesterday that Mrs. Frankfield has finally told him all that she knows of the facts surrounding the death of the army nurse, and that it does not tally exactly with her previous stories. Matheson suggests that she may become an important witness of the trial of Dr. Northcott.

It was to the home of Mrs. Frankfield at 724 Cleveland street, this city, that Miss Reed went on her arrival from Fort Riley, Kansas, on a brief furlough granted by the authorities at the army hospital at which the slain girl served as a nurse.

It was more than a week after Miss Reed's body was found that the police were able to trace the nurse's movements back to the home of Mrs. Frankfield, and only then after the brother of the dead girl had identified the body. At the time Mrs. Frankfield told the police that she knew nothing of her friend's condition and that when she left her home in Oakland Miss Reed told her nothing of her future plans.

Early in the investigation the police frank stated that they did not believe Mrs. Frankfield had told all that she knew about the case. Recent statements to Captain Matheson serve to emphasize this belief. Just what she has added recently to her previous statements the police officer would not say.

WORTH $25 TO CALL MAN LIAR

"It is worth $25 to tell that man he is a liar," declared Mrs. Mike Gallo of Livermore, after Judge A. F. S. Sore had fined her that sum for contempt.

During the hearing of the suit of C. Lepori against Mike and Macon Gallo yesterday the plaintiff testified that Mike Gallo is known as a bunco man. Mrs. Gallo stood up and protested. Judge Sore ordered her to sit outside the courtroom. As she moved toward the door she observed in tones that carried well "up stage."

"That man on the witness stand is a blankety blank liar."

"Come back here," the judge demanded. "What was that you said?"

Mrs. Gallo spoke right out in impetuous and told him.

"Twenty-five dollars for contempt of court," said the judge.

Outside Mrs. Gallo nursed her wrath.

"It's worth the money," she commented.

The suit is to recover on a bond furnished for Alfredo Fassio, who walked away from the same courtroom in 1910 during his trial on a charge of having run away with the disemPOWERED auto. He was arrested for absconding with some $300 and landed in jail. Lepori and T. Pazzo went on his bond. Mike and Macon Gallo, interested in Fassio, secured Lepori and Pazzo.

The county sued on the bond and collected, and after all these years the bondsmen came into court complaining that the man who was wanted them. They were given judgment. The amount with interest is $2555.

Court to Decide on Twice "Two Fingers"

Elmer Chapman fooled his aunt and has pretty cousin when he took them out driving, but he couldn't fool the judge. When he stopped at two locations on the auto jaunt out into the country he told them it was to get tobacco, according to their testimony. Judge Samuels this morning in police court drew from him the admission that it was just a wee drive less than two fingers, that he had had in each place. Whether twice two fingers will make a man too drunk to drive an automobile is a question the Court will decide tomorrow. S. H. Hampell had caused Chapman's arrest for driving while drunk after Chapman's machine had struck Hampell's.

RUSS ANXIOUS FOR BLOCKADE TO BE LIFTED

(Copyright, 1919, by United Press.)

PARIS, April 3.—The Russian soviet government is not asking for recognition by the associated powers, it was learned from authoritative sources today. The proposition recently submitted to the peace conference by Premier Lenin, summed up, is substantially as follows:

"Make peace with us, enabling us to end the numerous little wars that are being waged on Russian territory.

"Lift the blockade so as to permit us to get food and materials.

"Then we will 'make good' and you can recognize us—if you care to."

The Russians, it is understood, are also willing to make a separate peace with the associated powers, that is, without including the new Hungarian soviet government in the pact. By making peace with the Russians is naturally meant withdrawal of all allied forces from Russia and cessation of participation in such campaigns as that in the Odessa district.

Governor Tejon of Dediazmach also has revolted against the government.

The government announces that it will send a mission to Paris to apply for the admission of Abysinnia to the league of nations.

There has been more or less disorder in Abysinnia since the death of the famous Emperor Menelik in 1912.

Nightingale Pleads Not Guilty in Court

Patrolman Charles Nightingale, under suspension for alleged destruction of automobiles and other prizes which a newspaper was giving away in a contest, pleaded not guilty in Judge Mortimer Smith's court today to a charge of malicious destruction of property. He asked for a jury trial and Judge Smith set the date of trial for April 16. Nightingale's wife was a participant in the newspaper contest which was intended to give prizes on subscriptions. Nightingale, alleging the contest was unfair, did considerable damage to the prizes which were on display in a store-room.

SPAIN READY TO WORK WITH NATION LEAGUE

PARIS, April 3.—(By the Associated Press.)—Spain is desirous of adhering to the league of nations and has so notified President Wilson. In a letter under date of March 31 the Spanish ambassador, Q. de Leon, in Paris, addressed President Wilson on the subject, as follows:

"Mr. President: The government of his majesty has charged me to make a statement to your excellency in the capacity of president of the special commission of the peace conference for the league of nations.

"This delegate also said that Lord Robert Cecil, the British delegate, has stated he did not think it premature to declare that the Allied governments would welcome into the league of nations all the neutral countries represented.

"With the hypothesis that the new draft of the essentials which is to be submitted to the conference will not be changed in its general outlines, and also that the examination of the proposed amendments will facilitate the introduction of some changes of matters of detail considered worthy for special attention, his majesty's government will take great satisfaction in seconding an undertaking of such transcendental importance."

HAPPINESS IS POWERFUL CURE

Happiness is more powerful to cure than medicine, as Charles Fife and Mrs. Elizabeth Jane Rohlfman can testify, for since their hasty wedding at what they believed was Fife's death bed on Tuesday night, the bridegroom has steadily improved. This morning Mrs. Fife declared that he was doing nicely and she believed that he would recover. The couple are living at the little bungalow at 1325 Eighty-eighth avenue where Fife has kept bachelor quarters since his divorce, more than a year ago. As soon as he is able to be removed they will establish another home.

"We fought first we would be married last September," said the bride this morning, stealing a few seconds from her husband's bedside.

"There were reasons why we put it off. We had planned to be married later in the year. But when Mr. Fife was taken ill last Saturday I came to nurse him and he said we might as well be married now. It was a nurse until about four years ago, so I understand what to do. I know he will get well."

Fife, who was a patrol driver and has been a member of the Oakland police force for 13 years, was stricken on with pneumonia last Saturday. Physicians said he had been suffering with the disease for more than a week. Immediately following the bedside ceremony he settled his estate on his wife. It consists of some $2250 police fund insurance and the property on Eighty-eighth avenue. He is the son of Mrs. N. Fife, 1546 Eleventh avenue. The family is well known in the East Oakland district, where they were pioneer settlers.

BURGLARS TAKE GEMS WORTH $400

The burglary occurred between 8 and 10 o'clock last night while Mr. and Mrs. Fitzmaurice were out. One of the drawers was found to be the front drawer had been tampered with. It was one of the most thorough jobs of ransacking that has occurred in a local burglary. All drawers were pulled out and turned upside down, and even the beds were overturned.

The completeness of the search would seem to indicate that the burglar was looking for Liberty bonds, believing that they were hidden there.

It is the third jewelry burglary within a week. Last Friday afternoon the "baromet" was robbed and $500 worth of jewelry was missing. Monday afternoon the "baromet" apartments were entered, and $500 worth of jewelry belonging to Edith and Gertrude Morgan, school teachers, were taken. In the latter case the burglar was seen dining. A pawn key was placed at the Clarendon.

U. S. MARSHAL
AFTER HUBBY?
WHAT A JOKE!

"My husband being sought by the United States marshal" queried Mrs. Tyler Henshaw, 349 Vernon avenue, this city, in answer to a question asked regarding her husband's whereabouts. "—well, that's a good joke," and Mrs. Henshaw laughed.

Suit Tyler Henshaw was very much embarrassed when Depputy Marshal Lawrence Conlon called upon him at his office in 1931. He told him that he was in San Francisco and asked him to accompany him to the federal grand jury room.

When they arrived at the grand jury room the panel for the new federal grand jury had been completed. Henshaw, however, had been subpoenaed to appear before the grand jury. He should not be a member of this august body and had forgotten. After it was explained to him that this was what had happened to him for disregarding a federal subpoena, Henshaw did not agree with Mrs. Henshaw that it was a good joke.

Saturday Closing

Fight in Court

The fight of lower Broadway and Washington street merchants against the 6 o'clock Saturday closing rule of the Retail Merchants' Union was carried into court today and the testimony in the hearing heard by Judge Joseph S. Koford, the merchants who are opposing the unions in the matter are G. Carluccio, Joseph J. Carluccio, Joseph J. Goyarsky, Henry Garfinkel, Hyman Davis, Joseph Davis and Richard Weissman. They claimed in their testimony that they depend largely upon the Saturday night trade and that the closing of the stores at that time would mean that a great part of town could not close on Saturday nights and remain in business. The merchants ask for a permanent injunction against the unions, preventing them from stationing pickets in front of their places.

Woman Fires Shot at Fleeing Burglar

A burglar was chased out of the house this morning by Mrs. M. A. Conyers, who fired one shot at him as he fled. Mrs. Conyers, who lives at 1369 Eighth street, was asleep when she heard a man prowling in another room of the house.

Mrs. Conyers took her gun and investigated. As she approached the door of the room where the burglar was working to keep her coming and took a shot at him. Mrs. Conyers fired one shot at him as he fled down the street.

NOW GET BUSY WITH YOUR ANT POISON

The Argentine Ants Are Coming a Billion Strong—Get Ready
If you will go out into your garden you will find thousands of little Argentine ants walking around looking for new nests. During the winter they have been hibernating. Their nests are now over-crowded and the ants are seeking new locations for their summer colonies. The time to get them is right now. For several years we have been manufacturing "Argo Ant Poison." This is put up according to a formula supplied by the Government and is used by the Scientists who have studied the Argentine Ant nest in this vicinity. This ant poison should be used in the garden and not in the house. It comes in liquid form and looks like syrup. It is put upon a sponge and the sponge is put in a little tin container. Extra containers are each.

Unheralded Heroes

More than one story has come back from the fighting lines showing that the American doughboy, even when deprived of his arms, was never helpless. When a report came back to the effect that a party of Yankees who had been taken prisoners and disarmed, had successfully fought themselves free and back to their lines with their fists no one was surprised. Every one said:

"Sure they would do that. It's just like them."

Here we have the story of a young Yank of one of the New Jersey divisions who not only stood off, but who routed a boche force with a shower of stones.

When Michael J. Feeney of Company C, 124th Infantry, left his home in Bayonne, N. J., for there one of his friends remarked:

"Sure, now that Mike's gone over the Hennes here in for a hard time of it. Actually, from start to finish, Feeney lived up to his friend's estimate of the Hennes. Several "hard times" for the Hennes can be laid to Feeney's activities, but his most notable piece of work is that which went on record when the 124th division was in heavy fighting in a wooded district of the St. Mihiel sector.

According to the story told by Feeney's captain, Feeney and his buddies, Brady, were occupying the same bunk hole in the woods, and there was just enough underground between them and the Hun's front line. During the early morning the boches kept up an unceasing machine gun barrage and things were humming along at a lively rate. Some Hun who had come up during the night with the evident intention of bombing our men from their position, got close enough in our best position to light their grenades into our advance lines.

One boche threw a grenade accurately and it landed on the edge of the hole in which Feeney and Brady were lying. Feeney saw the grenade coming, jumping, he caught hold of his buddies and hurled him into the next hole, less than a foot and a half to the right, and both landed safely in the bottom of the protecting pit before the bomb exploded.

Of course, in the rapid change of quarters Brady had no time to rather up and take with him his equipment, and the bursting of the bomb had scattered the stock of Feeney's rifle, making it useless. So the two buddies found themselves out forward of the line, face to face with the enemy, stripped of everything to fight with. Anyway, it seemed that they were stripped of nothing to fight with, and had they been two Hun, they would have counted all lost and would have come out of their pit with their hands above their heads yelling "kammerad" to beat the band.

But Feeney and Brady were not through. They had no rifles, no grenades, not even a bayonet between them, but they weren't through. They looked their hands over several times, clinching and unclenching them, as they considered the possibilities of giving the boches a fight with their fists.

BLOW-UP COMING.

Today we enter the first volcanic period of April, chiefly produced, says Professor Porta, by the conjunction of Venus with Uranus and Mercury on January 17 and March 27. The period will last until April 8 and will be marked by moderate volcanoes, possibly at Lassen Peak.

CHILDREN CRY FOR ASTORIA.
The men, women and children of Astoria ask for consideration of this city as a site for a naval station, said an impassioned orator at that place.

A rich man had sums of gold deposited in a bank growing old. When he must quit its sordid strife And spend his few declining days In restful, less-exacting ways.

But when he set him down to rest, He found his case no joy possessed. The hours dragged, the days were long, His nights brought neither mirth nor sleep.

And with the gold he'd fought to own, He found that he must live alone. He called a trusty servant nigh Who offered him forth to buy The things for which he wished, and said:

"You long have bought my wine and bread, And luscious here in shop and store For all that I have hungered for."

When they came over to take them, But the Hennes showed no disposition to come over, so something else had to be done. Then a bright idea came to Feeney.

Dropping around on the bottom of their pit the big doughboy from New Jersey gathered together a small pile of stones. Standing up, in plain view of the enemy, he lunged stone after stone at the heads of the Huns as they appeared over the top of their shell holes only a few yards away.

On a line from Danderodergang straight through to Spludergrupp The Czechs are checking the Boche's.
And the Slovaks are slowin' 'em up.

side the question. When everything goes smoothly the young couple are betrothed. The young man gives the girl a ring or even merely a piece of gold to signify that they are engaged, and this economy is called "the blind-bing."

In the old days there used to be marriages of three kinds. First, when the rank of the parties were equal, or the rank of the bridegroom superior to that of the bride. Second, when the rank of the wife was superior to that of the husband. The third form of marriage was an imperfect marriage, into which a man might enter with many different women, that is, polygamy. In the first two forms the ceremony was the same. In the last there was no ceremony at all.

Today when a girl is betrothed, she brings all of her toys and childhood treasures, thus showing her parents that she is a useful girl. Her friends then give her many presents to console her for the losses she has suffered, and congratulate her upon her determination.

Another part of the ceremony is the visits the bridegroom's friends make to the home of the bride's father. They bear with them fruits and other good things, etc. The purpose of the custom of these calls is to give publicity to the intended marriage.

When the marriage takes place, according to vows of the husband and wife, certain native ceremonies are also observed at the bride's home. Then all the guests and their servants meet in front of the house and fire off guns in celebration.

Just previous to this there is the public procession with which the bridegroom is conducted from his house to the home of the bride. In this procession are men with spears, fastened to poles which others strike, drummers, sham soldiers armed with swords, darts and shields, and women carrying ornaments and household goods and other presents for the bride.

A truly imposing sight a great procession may be.

Then when the bridegroom enters the house, he seats his bride. With himself, in token that he shares his fortune with her. One of the most picturesque of the bridal rites is that of the bridegroom giving his bride a little rice, which they eat from the same bowl.

3-minute Journeys

In that far corner of the world called Java there are some strange and interesting marriage customs which are found in practically no other land.

Like almost every other people the Javanese declare their customs were handed down to them from the forefathers of a dim and distant past. This may account for their uniqueness.

When a Javanese youth, who knows little of what we consider civilization, just emerges from boyhood his father sets about finding him a wife. For it isn't the young man, but his parents, who select his bride. In no way whatsoever do the young man and his prospective bride have a "say" in the proceeding.

A suitable mate having been found by the father, he calls upon the father of the prospective bride and proposes for the girl's hand. If the match is favored by the girl's father, the two men retire and the mothers of the couple become acquainted and they de-

GARIS' BEDTIME STORY

(By Howard R. Garis.)
"Dear me. There it goes!" cried Nurse Jane Fussy Wuzz, the muskrat lady housekeeper, as she hopped around out in the kitchen of the hollow stump bungalow one day. "There it goes!"

"That goes?" asked Uncle Wiggly Longears, the bumpy rabbit gentleman, who lived with Nurse Jane. "Do you mean the fire engine goes, or the top goes the Wuzzel?"

"Neither one!" answered Nurse Jane, with a sort of sniff of her whiskers. "I mean the diamond has fallen out of my ring. There it goes, rolling over the kitchen floor."

"Neither one!" answered Nurse Jane, with a sort of sniff of her whiskers. "I mean the diamond has fallen out of my ring. There it goes, rolling over the kitchen floor."

"How did it happen?" asked the bunny.

"I was washing dishes with my new diamond ring you gave me on my paw," said the muskrat lady. "There it was, rolling over the kitchen floor, and the diamond stone loose out of the ring."

"Never mind," said Uncle Wiggly kindly. "I'll go to the five and ten dollar store and get you a new diamond ring. And I'll have the loose stone of this one glued in, so it won't fall out again."

"How is very kind of you," said Nurse Jane.

"Oh, it will be a mere pleasure," laughed the bunny. "As I hop along I can be looking for an adventure."

So with the loose diamond and the gold ring the bunny rabbit gentleman began hopping over the fields and through the woods, until he came to the place where all the animals have their diamond rings mended.

It did not take long to glue the sparkling diamond back in the ring hop of gold and then, with it safely in his paw, Uncle Wiggly hopped on to the five and eleven dollar store to get Nurse Jane another and a never diamond ring.

"Here is a beautiful one," said the little mouse girl clerk, who waited on the bunny.

"I'll take it," said the rabbit gentleman, and then with two diamond rings, which made him feel very rich indeed, Uncle Wiggly started to hop back to his bungalow.

He had gone very far before there was a rustling in the bushes, and out stepped Alice Wiggly-wuzzel, the duck lady. As soon as Uncle Wiggly saw her he cried:

"Why, Alice! What big ears you have!"

"Those aren't my ears!" quacked Alice. "Those are my feathery ears, and they're very latest style! Don't you like them?"

"I don't say that I do," spoke Uncle Wiggly. "There are all sorts of larger ears than I have. They stick out so far! What's in 'em?"

"I only pulled out the feathers over my ears. All the animal girls do it. Why, you should see the ear puffs of Frankie Stubtail, the girl beaver."

"Hums! I hardly think I want to, spoke the bunny. "I don't want to find fault, Alice, but it does seem to me that another puff would be better."

"They wouldn't be so stylish," quacked Alice. "I've just showed Alice the two diamond rings for Nurse Jane, and Alice said they were very pretty. Then the duck lady and the bunny rabbit gentleman walked on through the woods together, when, all of a sudden, Alice whispered:

"Quick, Uncle Wiggly! Give me those diamond rings! I've asked the bunny, in surprise."

"What for?" asked the bunny. "Just give them to me?"

"I want to ask questions! Just give them to me!"

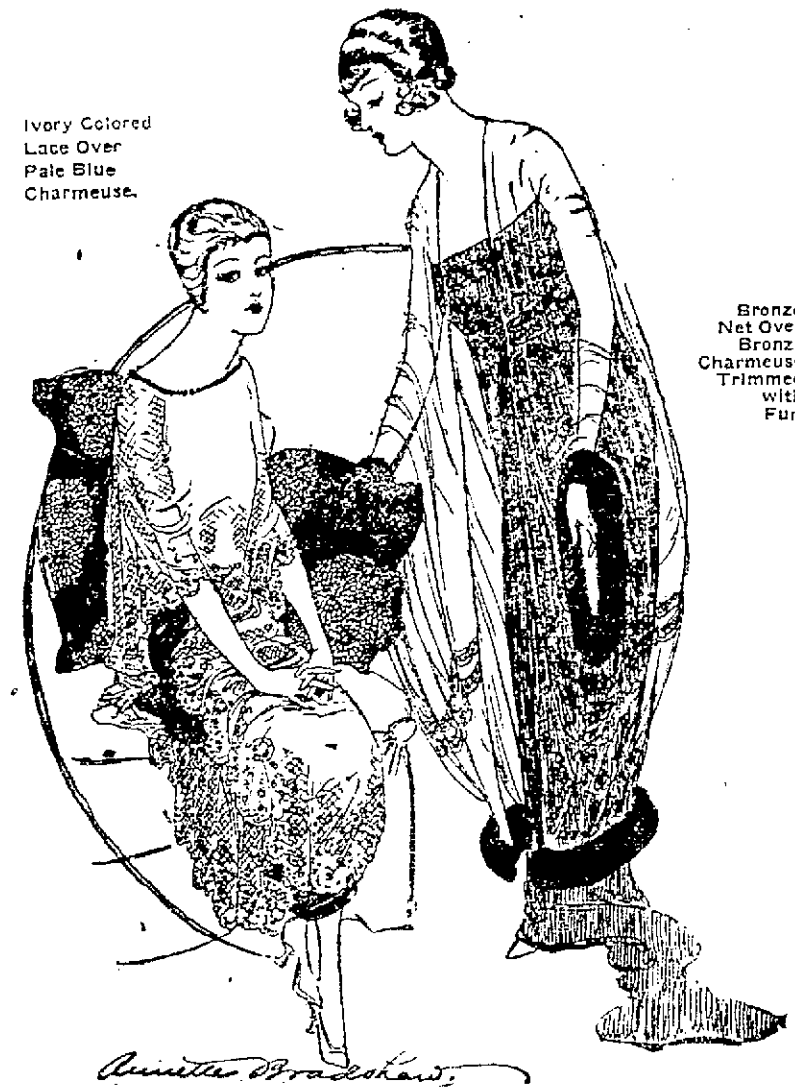

"I want to ask questions! Just give them to me!"

"I want to ask questions! Just give them to me!"

"I want to ask questions! Just give them to me!"

"I want to ask questions! Just give them to me!"

Robes d'Interieurs---Which Means Negligees---Merely

BY ANNETTE BRADSHAW.

Softly colored and dainty, the feminine negligee is again having its hour. War's demands are letting up and the women and girls who proudly gave the hours of a crowded day toward winning the great victory, now have time to sit in these attractive garments in leisurely companionship in the intimacy of their homes.

Fashion has set its seal upon the negligee by giving some of its best designers and manufacturers to the production of these garments. Chiffon, georgette crepe, chambray and crepe meteor are the materials employed in their development. Many a lovely evening gown no longer new, may be remade into one of these charming robes d'interieur.

The colors of these negligees are frequently pale, though wonderfully lovely materials are made up in a combination with gold brocade or metallic lace, from the darker shades of chiffon in bronze, peacock blue and purple.

The lines of these robes are usually straight, but a negligee should have such finish as to give comfort and becomingness as well as extreme neatness.

The lovely gown at the left shows a hint of pale blue chambray, over which is draped ivory colored lace flouncing. The sleeves are cut in form a kimono effect over the shoulders. A row of Wiggly," said Alice, when the bad chap was out of the way.

"Where's the bunny, did you hide them?" asked the surprised bunny.

"In my ear puffs!" quacked Alice, then for them.

So, once again, you see, it sometimes helps to be stylish, though I can't say I like ear puffs. And if the silver butter dish doesn't hide in the golden dishpan when the tin teapot wants to take it to the moving pictures, I'll tell you next about Wiggly and the big blow.

REVELATIONS OF A WIFE

"What do you mean?" Dicky asked sharply.

"You know very well what I mean," Lillian retorted. "But I'm going to elaborate on my meaning, and you're going to listen to it. I haven't given you a thorough grooming, my Dicky-bird, in a long, long time, and you show the effects of my neglect."

"Please, ma'am, I'll be a good boy. I'll never, never do it again if you won't whip me this time," he began playfully, then his tone changed to one of sharp anxiety. "You're sure Madge can't hear you?"

"She's sound asleep," Lillian returned carelessly. "With a tablet strong enough to keep her asleep for another hour at least."

"I started to rise, to protest to her that I was awake, then the solution of something elusive in her voice, every intonation of which I knew, came to me. She must have left the door ajar purposefully, she counted upon the voices waking me. She meant me to hear what she had to say to Dicky."

"In the first place," she drawled meaningfully, "may I inquire how you happen to know that Madge and Dr. Pettit were lunching at Rector's?"

"I saw them there," Dicky returned sulkily.

"Where did you see them?"

"At the foot of the stairs leading from the private dining room."

"Then you were either going or coming from one of those rooms?" Lillian countered swiftly.

"Right you are, oh, Sherlockia." The impudent note crept back into Dicky's voice. "Tell me how you deduced it?"

"I know those corridors of Rector's and I naturally acquit you of playing the spy around them. The other question is the only one remaining, what was their other name?"

"Really, Lillian, Dicky's voice was angry, but Lillian gave him no chance to finish.

"Spare me the heroics, Dicky-bird," she said, wearily. "You can't put anything like that over on me. Of course I know the answer already. It was the little Fairfax, the one you've been rushing so assiduously the last month or two."

A tangle of excitement ran through me. So Lillian knew all about this friendship of Dicky's for Edith Fairfax, the Virginia art student! For a moment I wondered resentfully why she had never spoken to me about it, then I realized that Lillian's code held the masculine aversion to disclosing another's secrets, realized also, that she was now cleverly making Dicky clear up the tangled situation himself.

"You're no right, Lillian, to discuss Miss Fairfax's name into this bromsion," Dicky said loftily.

"Oh! spread your wings and fly down from that limb!" Lillian retorted.

"You've been so eminently careful of the young lady's name yourself, haven't you?"

"I trust I haven't," Dicky began. "You've only made her the subject of and comment on every studio and circle where you and she are known," Lillian said relentlessly.

"I'll just forestall all those protestations of 'not meaning anything,' Lillian went on caustically. "Of course, you didn't mean anything. You never do. You're not even in love with her. There might be some excuse for you if you were."

"In love with her?" Dicky almost shouted. "Of course I'm not in love with her! Our association is just a rare, beautiful friendship, and besides I'm helping her out with something she's doing."

His tones carried conviction, and I felt the happy tears start to my eyes. I had not realized how strong had been my fear that my husband's love had gone from me into the keeping of the slender attractive girl from Virginia, until this vigorous denial from his own lips came to me.

Hagan Confers On Island Lease

Appearing before the committee on navigation and waterways in the Senate, and conferring with state legislators regarding the proposed state lease to Government Island, City Attorney H. L. Hagan is again in Sacramento. Hagan is conferring with members of the navigation committee on the proposed bill giving Oakland control of tide lands from the established tide line of 1852 to the center of the estuary, the bill being opposed by railroad interests. Several conferences are expected to be held before a decision is made on the issue, according to Hagan.

Hagan is residing at 315 Bellevue avenue, Oakland, this afternoon.

Uncle Sam wants better babies.

By GEORGIA C. BORDWELL

Through the courtesy of the Board of Education ten of the fourteen health centers which will be maintained next week for the weighing and measuring of Oakland's babies will be established in the public schools. The board has further aided the work by donating the services of the school janitor—and by the offer to keep the school room well heated, so there will be no danger of the babies taking cold. Dr. Adelaide Brown, who has given an enormous amount of time to the Children's Year work, declared yesterday in a talk before the Oakland committee that it was necessary to strip the babies of all clothes in order for the doctor to give a thorough physical examination. The committee is anxious for babies of all kinds and conditions to be weighed and measured during the week—for the statistics will be published broadcast, and it would be scarcely a fair thing to have the records of all the puny babies in Oakland without the records of all the fat, rosy ones. Babies of all kinds will show Oakland and the world exactly what is the average condition of her babies.

The centers, with their executives, will be as follows:

Headquarters, 2909 Broadway; Miss Edna McGraw, secretary.
Lazarus (under the auspices of Oakland Civic Center), Mrs. August Gearhart.
Tompkins and Linden Settlement, Mrs. Billee.
Melrose, Miss Henrietta Johnson.
Prescott, Mrs. McEwen.
Jefferson, Mrs. Phillips.
Clawson, Miss Burdick.
Claremont, Mrs. Frank Hopper.
Garfield, Miss Edith Taylor of the University of California.
Elmhurst, Mrs. Alice Brown.
Basement of Oakland High, Miss Patricia Garland.
Japanese Center, Eighth and Broadway, Mr. Ono.
Butey hospital, Miss Bertha Wright.
Fabiola hospital, Mrs. G. Taylor.
Oakland College of Medicine, Mrs. A. C. Smith.

NEW STEP IN AMERICANIZATION

Parent-teacher associations for fathers and mothers of foreign birth is the very latest step in Americanization which has been taken by the Oakland school department. As arranged by Superintendent Fred M. Hunter, these associations, which are in reality clubs, conform with the national program of Americanization, which is getting well started in all of the larger cities of the United States.

The work has started in Oakland with the organization of an Italian parent-teacher's club at the Emerson school, which has members of seventy. Mrs. Jack Faletti is president of the new organization.

The clubs will have exactly the same aims as the regular parent-teacher's associations, and will bring into close touch the teachers and the foreign parents, who in the past, the school authorities hold, never were able to properly understand the school system or the viewpoint of the teacher.

Often, as a result of inability to understand properly, the foreign parent has come to the belief that the teacher is the one of the foreigner's child; school discipline, sometimes not properly understood, is resented and misunderstood, and the result has been a breach between the foreign industrial worker and the school.

Under the new plan the teachers and the foreign parents are expected to become friendly and reach a common basis of understanding; foreign mothers will be welcomed at the cottages to be operated in conjunction with the neighborhood schools, will be welcomed at social affairs and other school activities, and through interpreters when necessary, will be made to understand that the schools and the school personnel and facilities are installed for service to all alike, foreign or American born.

The year's program of the associated parent-teacher's clubs includes the organization of foreign clubs for every nationality. The club of the American of foreign descent may be properly welcomed to the use and benefits of the Oakland school system; that personal service may be done the parents as well as the children, and that cooperation will be general.

A schedule of such organization is now being prepared.

Actress Tells Secret

A Well Known Actress Tells How to Darken Gray Hair With a Simple Home Made Mixture.

Joice Williams, the well known American actress, who was recently playing at the Imperial Theater in St. Louis, Mo., made the following statement about gray hair and how to darken it:

"Anyone can prepare a simple mixture at home, at very little cost, that will darken gray streaks, faded hair, and make it soft and glossy. To a half pint of water add 1 ounce of bay rum, a small box of Barbo Compound, 1/4 ounce of glycerine. These ingredients can be bought at any drug store at very little cost, or any druggist can put it up for you. Apply to the hair twice a week until the desired shade is obtained. This will make a gray haired person look 20 years younger. This is not a dye, it does not color the most delicate scalp, is not sticky or greasy and does not rub off. Advertiser.

FATHER IS GETTING HIS INNINGS

Father is beginning to have his innings. Mothers' clubs have been having all the tea parties to themselves, but the habit of holding the meetings in the evening so that father may get on the inside of what teacher and Johnnie and mother are all doing for the school is growing, and knowing what father likes and what will invigilate him into going to the party, extra delicious refreshments are always served at these evening meetings. Grant school recently held such a meeting, and it was a decided success. The following program preceded the social hour which is designed to promote friendly intercourse among all the neighborhood:

Music by school orchestra; original poem, "The Flag," by Mrs. Comstock; Americanization speech, Mr. Hunter, vocal solo, Mrs. Grace Casters; Americanization, Mrs. George Short; remarks, Dr. Loran Pease; vocal duet, Mrs. McMillan and Miss Edith Haines; music by school orchestra.

The Park Boulevard Woman's Club, Mrs. A. M. Beebe, president, will meet Monday afternoon, April 7, at 2 p. m. in the room of Mrs. W. G. Ferguson, who for the past year has been the able president of the Eboli Club, will read one of her own compositions. Candidates for the office of mayor will appear at the meeting, which is supplemented by community singing led by H. J. Brouwer of the War Camp Community Service.

Worldwide System of Wireless Is Near

NEW YORK, April 3. — Plans for a world-wide wireless telephone system are being considered by the General Electric Co., according to a statement by Ernest F. W. Alexanderson, consulting engineer of the company, in an address here before the American Institute of Radio Engineers.

Alexanderson declared that two devices invented by him, the Bridge receiver and the barrage receiver, would make possible introduction of such a system, so that business deals could be transacted in a few minutes by persons thousands of miles apart.

He explained that the system contemplated is virtually a replica of the exchange system of ordinary tele-

Captain Delerio Resumes Fire Duty

Fire Captain A. Delerio, who left Oakland for service overseas several months ago, today returned for duty. Captain Delerio, when found to be a fire department officer, was placed in charge of the military fire department at an Eastern camp and later in an overseas camp. The result was that he was kept in a cantonment until almost before the armistice was signed, in charge of the fire fighting work.

He was assigned to his old captain's position today by Fire Chief Elliott Whitehead.

phony. Central offices, he said, would be established in all the principal cities.

Substitute Firemen to Get Regular Jobs

Sixty positions as substitute firemen will be abolished by an ordinance filed today with the city council by Commissioner F. F. Morse, as the first step toward the assignment of a substitute force of twenty men, to give full time and to receive $122 per month, a shade less than the regular firemen's compensation under the new police and fire amendment.

Under the old system substitute firemen were kept on call and used in emergencies, there usually being steady work in about twenty places. Under the new Whitehead system the men who will be given the permanent substitute jobs will give full time, and will become regular firemen when they become eligible by examination or civil service rules.

HELP!

You may be able to defend yourself from a frontal attack, but how about it if you are held up from the rear?

Your body has to fight constantly against disease. It isn't always a fair fight, because constipation is a treacherous enemy that you usually don't recognize until too late.

Stagnating, poison-forming food waste in your large intestines, helps disease to attack you and hinders you from defending yourself. Such self-poisoning causes over 90% of human illness.

You may be held fast for months in the grip of constipation, trying vainly to free yourself by taking castor oil, pills, salts, mineral waters, etc., in order to force the bowels to move. Not only will the constipation grow worse with the continuance of such remedies but you will be less able to defend yourself against the attack when it comes.

On the other hand, Nujol overcomes constipation and brings about the habit of easy, thorough bowel evacuation at regular intervals. It acts gently and harmlessly, at all ages under any conditions.

Take Nujol and constipation can't sneak up on you and cripple you when you least expect it. Get a bottle of Nujol from your druggist today and write for free booklet "Thirty Feet of Danger."

RECORD TOW MADE BY BAY SKIPPER

The good ship Quincy, commanded on the Atlantic by Lieutenant Commander John C. K. Redington, well-known in Oakland and the west, has just weathered the severest storm her skipper can recall in his twenty-seven years at sea. Better than that, the Quincy saved the steamer Transportation from apparent doom in the storm and towed it 2000 miles into Philadelphia. This is one of the longest tows on record. One peculiarity of the rescue is that Lieutenant Commander Redington, being a navy man, cannot collect salvage.

Word of the Quincy's exploit has been received in Oakland by Mrs. Redington, who is now on her way to join her husband at Philadelphia. She has been spending the winter here, the guest of her mother, Mrs. J. H. Middleton of 141 Broadway. The Quincy left Genoa on January 27 and after a few days at sea was blown over 100 miles off her course by raging head winds. On February 23 an S. O. S. call was received from the Transportation, which had lost her rudder in a gale and was foundering 1200 miles off the Bermuda Islands. With a hurricane, the Quincy altered her course to bring her up to the Transportation and reach the distressed vessel the following day.

GRAND CANYON WILL SUPPLY ARIZONA POWER

PHOENIX, Ariz., April 3.—The Grand Canyon of the Colorado, long a nationally famous pleasure ground, like Niagara must go to work.

That is the edict of James McLaughlin, chief engineer of the Grand Canyon Water Development company, who has completed engineering details of a $12,000,000 project to make the turbulent waters supply all of Arizona's power demands.

His plan calls for building of a 200-foot dam at the mouth of Diamond creek, in the Grand Canyon—the structure to be but slightly smaller than the famous Roosevelt dam.

Course by raging head winds. On February 23 an S. O. S. call was received from the Transportation, which had lost her rudder in a gale and was foundering 1200 miles off the Bermuda Islands. With a hurricane, the Quincy altered her course to bring her up to the Transportation and reach the distressed vessel the following day.

OAKLAND FUND IN SALVATION DRIVE RAISED

Oakland went "over the top" in the Elks' Salvation Army campaign with a smash. Announcement was made at the headquarters at the Elks last evening that the campaign would probably be over-subscribed by from $5000 to $8000. The bank deposits last night amounted to $26,282.22, with several large donors and subscribers yet to be heard from.

"The campaign was a splendid success," announced Hardy Hutchinson, chairman of the committee in charge last evening. "It represented a magnificent response from the people of Oakland to a magnificent cause. Handicapped through the lack of men workers, we were forced to ask the people to constitute themselves committees of one to see that their neighborhoods and business establishments were canvassed and to then turn in their collections. That we went over the top is ample evidence that the people of the Eastbay district appreciate the work that the Salvation Army has done and is doing."

Our records show that we went over the top about noon Monday, but were forced to keep our accounts open because of our outstanding subscriptions. On behalf of the Salvation Army and the Elks I want to thank all those who had a part in this campaign.

In going "over the top" Oakland carried the lion's share of the county of Alameda. The Alameda county allotment was $30,000, and the Berkeley lodge of Elks raised over $6000, thus placing Alameda county on the "honor list."

In taking over the campaign, the Elks appointed Hardy Hutchinson as chairman of a committee of management. The San Francisco-Oakland Terminal Railway loaned George Sheldon as campaign manager. The campaign was arranged for and opened within a week after the Elks had taken hold.

Among the Elks who gave their time and effort were J. Cal Ewing, Colonel H. K. Ritter and scores of others. R. S. Sanders was in charge of the publicity committee.

MORE SEVERE BAR ADMISSION TEST FAVORED

SACRAMENTO, April 3.—Assemblyman Lindley's bill to create a state board of bar examiners passed the Assembly yesterday, 42 to 32, after a lively tilt, in which attorney members took opposing sides. Opposition, based chiefly on the contention that no new commission should be formed at this time, compelled proponents of the measure to have the doors of the chamber locked three times and absentees brought in before enough votes were mustered to pass the bill.

The bill would require three years' study instead of two from applicants for admission to the bar, and that lawyers from other states must have three years' practice before being licensed here. It would have the State Supreme court appoint three examiners at salaries of $1000 a year to be paid from a fund created from $15 examination fees and $10 license fees. This board to conduct the examinations now handled by the appellate court.

LAWYERS ARE DIVIDED.

Lindley, an attorney, read letters from justices of the Appellate and Supreme court, approving of his plan.

When Merriam and H. A. Miller opposed the creation of another commission, Carter, an attorney, noted it was not "a fat commission."

Johnson and Vial, appointing three examiners as tending to create "a syndicate for attorneys."

The Assembly carried, 27 to 26, a motion by Gebhart to take from the final reading file and refer back to the irrigation committee Senator Irwin's bill changing the basis of vote required in forming irrigation districts from two-thirds to a majority.

"This measure affects the very fundamentals of irrigation law and the Assembly committee acted too soon for the interests involved to be heard," Gebhart said. "The supporters of the bill desired to slip it through the Assembly."

SENATORS HAD HEARING.

Wendell opposed the measure, contending the Assembly committee members had attended a Senate committee hearing when all interests were heard fully.

"Miller & Lux then agreed that if the provision requiring the petitioners for the formation of an irrigation district to require 20 percent of the value of the land in the district were adopted, instead of 10 percent, as had been suggested, they would be satisfied," Wendell said.

"Today Miller & Lux violated that agreement. They are attempting to defeat the will of the people by preventing the measure from coming before this body."

ASSISTANT SAFETY MANAGEMENT.

The Assembly passed Senator Hendrick's bill to permit pooling of voting trusts in corporations organized for marketing agricultural or dairy products where such stockholders are producers "in order to prevent the capital stock from being controlled by interests hostile to such producers, and to secure safe and prudent management in the interests of the whole number of stockholders."

The Assembly passed bills by the following senators:

Sample bill to prohibit the shooting of game birds from motor or sail boats, automobiles or airplanes, and to prohibit the discharge of firearms on public highways.

Campbell to permit aliens who have declared their intentions of becoming citizens to obtain hunting licenses on payment of $10, provided they shall complete naturalization at the earliest date possible.

ELKS THANK "TRIBUNE" FOR AID IN DRIVE

Editor The TRIBUNE: The Elks Club of Oakland, during the last week, has been able to accomplish one of the most splendid undertakings that it or any other organization has ever handled; that is, bringing to a successful conclusion the drive to procure Oakland's quota of the $22,000 that the people of California pledged to the Salvation Army.

This work was made possible by the whole-hearted manner in which The Oakland TRIBUNE carried the news to our citizens, especially in your editorial of March 23, 1919, and your subsequent advertisements.

For your splendid assistance the Elks' Salvation Army Campaign Committee wish to thank you, and assure you of our most sincere appreciation and gratitude.

Very sincerely yours,
ELKS' SALVATION ARMY HOME SERVICE CAMPAIGN COMMITTEE.
Hardy C. Hutchinson, General Chairman.

SUTTER BY-PASS BILLS APPROVED

SACRAMENTO, April 3.—Bills by Assemblymen Gebhart and Lewis, embodying the compromise plan for ending the Sutter by-pass controversy, were recommended for passage by the Assembly drainage, swamp and overflowed lands committee today. The bills proposed state aid for completing the east levee of the Sutter by-pass and provide a plan of assessing the cost of completing the flood protection and drainage project of which the by-pass is a part. One of Gebhart's bills proposes a bond issue to spread payments on the total assessment of $10,500,000 over a period of forty years.

The Senate drainage committee voted to report favorably on the bills by Senator Purkitt to appropriate $3,000,000 of state funds to be used in purchasing bonds of the Sacramento and San Joaquin drainage districts. This amount would represent the state's interest in the flood control work in the district, proponents of the measure said. This is one of the measures proposed to consolidate the differences of landowners in the district growing out of the controversy over the Sutter by-pass.

The Assembly's drainage and reformatory committee favorably reported Senator Crowley's bill to appropriate $75,000 to be used by the state prison directors in assisting paroled and discharged prisoners in obtaining employment.

Passage of Assemblyman Hurley's bill to tax all bank deposits, eliminating the exemption now commonly granted saving accounts, was recommended by the Assembly revenue and taxation committee.

ITALIANS WITH $2,800,000 IN BELTS TO SAIL

NEW YORK, April 3.—At least 2,800,000 real American dollars, in the money belts of 1400 Italians booked to sail on the liner President Wilson for Trieste are being held in port here by the harbor strike at a cost of $2100 a day to the Union Navigation Company, which has been unable to start the vessel on its way for lack of tug.

This amount of gold represents the savings of years of toil in America. Each of the 1400 passengers, eager to return to Italy after the war, has at least $2000 in his possession.

The vessel, originally scheduled to sail March 26, now is due to leave next Saturday. In the meantime bankers for the steamship company have paid to the Italians approximately $28,000 for subsistence, at the rate of $150 per day for each emigrant.

STATE NORMAL TO BE BRANCH OF U. C.

SACRAMENTO, April 3.—An agreement to insert in Assemblyman Fleming's bill provisions to make the Los Angeles State Normal School a branch of the University of California to carry junior college courses and any other university work the university officials may request, and at the same time carry forward its normal school work as it stands now, was reached yesterday at a conference of representatives of all interests affected. The bill is now before the ways and means committee of the Assembly. Fleming said it probably would be necessary to provide an additional appropriation of $35,000 annually for the school under the new plan.

FAVOR MORE STATE AID FOR SCHOOLS

SACRAMENTO, April 3.—Passage of Assemblyman Merriam's bill to appropriate $200,000, pledged by the state for protection of the Los Angeles and Long Beach harbors against flood damage, was recommended today by the Assembly ways and means committee.

The committee also recommended favorably Mrs. Sawyer's bill to increase the state appropriation for elementary schools from $15 to $17.50 per pupil in average daily attendance. This measure, a companion bill to one by Senator Sharkey, would require an additional $1,500,000 from the state.

The committee recommended passage of Assemblyman Fleming's bill to appropriate $75,000 to cover the deficit in the "Liberty Fair" at Los Angeles, and Assemblyman Kline's bill to assist the Riverside and San Bernardino counties in the later for the later from $150,000 to $200,000.

The committee postponed until Friday night action on the Collins bill that would increase state aid for orphan, half-orphan and abandoned children to $12.50 a month, the counties giving $7.50. Clyde J. Seavey of the state board of control spoke for a bill previously tabled, that would divide the cost equally between state and county, with the state total $20,000. He said the Collins bill would add $1,300,000 to the state's expenses, while the control board's bill would have made the increase only $300,000. The delay in passing on the bill was occasioned by the appearance of Senator Nealon announced that several prominent workers in state charity would address the Senate finance committee tonight on the subject.

Cement Container Bill Again Opposed

SACRAMENTO, April 3.—The Senate public health and quarantine committee tabled yesterday a bill by Dennett which would have prohibited the serving of oleomargarine to inmates of state institutions.

The committee also voted to report to the Senate its recommendation "do not pass" a bill by Senator McDonald which would require cement plants to pack cement in paper sacks or other dust-proof containers. This is the fourth time this bill has been placed before the legislature.

The Senate committee on education reported the Jones bill, amended, placing the administration of compulsory educational laws in the hands of the State Department of Education, although still leaving concurrent jurisdiction with the State Labor Bureau.

MEDAL GIVEN GEN. WOOD ON BAKER'S ORDER

WASHINGTON, April 3.—Major-General Leonard Wood, for several years a storm center in American army life, has been awarded the distinguished service medal, the War Department announced today.

His citation reads:
"For exceptional meritorious and conspicuous service as a department, division and camp commander during the war. He has displayed qualities of leadership and professional attainments of a high order in the administration and training of his various commands and has furthered in every way during the war the system of officer training schools."
Wood unsuccessfully made a personal appeal both to Secretary of War Baker and to President Wilson himself to be allowed to go to France and lead his Camp Funston men.

Major-General Hugh L. Scott was granted the same honor.

His citation reads:
"For exceptionally meritorious and conspicuous service as chief of staff in advocating and persistently urging the adoption of the selective service law."

The War Department today also announced it had conferred the distinguished service medal on General K. Otani, senior Allied commander in Siberia and one of Japan's leading generals.

EASTERN CHURCH OFFERS REFUSED BY DR. STIDGER

SAN JOSE, April 3.—"I have been in San Jose only two years and I feel that my work is not complete," stated Dr. W. L. Stidger, pastor of the First M. E. church, rejecting two offers from large churches in the East. One of the churches is known as John R. Mott's Mount Vernon church; the other is the Second church in Philadelphia. Dr. Stidger has been very active in local politics and an associate of the Rev. Paul Smith of San Francisco in vice crusades.

BANKERS WILL FORM GROUP SIX

Following the formation in this city Saturday afternoon of Bankers' Group No. 6, comprising Alameda, Contra Costa and San Joaquin counties, a dinner will be served at the Hotel Oakland at 6:30 p. m., by the Clearing House Association of this city. Covers will be laid for 100 bank officials, representing the three counties. A program has been arranged by a committee comprising George S. Meredith, vice-president of the California Bankers' Association and cashier of the Farmers and Merchants National Bank chairman; A. J. Mount, cashier of the Central National Bank; Charles A. Smith, assistant manager of the Bank of Italy; W. F. Morrison, cashier of the First National Bank of Berkeley.

The group system has proved successful in this state, according to local bankers, five groups being already in operation in California. It is believed by those who are promoting the movement that such an organization comprising bankers of the three counties, whose interests are similar, will prove advantageous.

Dr. H. Colburn, secretary of the California Bankers' Association, will be present at the meeting in the offices of the Oakland Clearing House Association Saturday afternoon to explain to the bankers the most expeditious and satisfactory methods for inaugurating the group.

Bankers of the three counties are said to be solidly behind the movement. The following bankers have been named as a committee or organization: W. D. Morris, Berkeley; Will E. Morris, Stockton; T. E. Connolly, Stockton; W. A. Hale, Martinez; F. W. Wurster, Stockton; C. J. Cray, Richmond; J. Y. Beeson, Chico; A. Smith, A. J. Mount and George S. Meredith, all of Oakland.

Count 10 Before Eloping, Advice

SAN FRANCISCO, April 3.—Miss Adele Callaghan, heiress of the late E. Clement Palmer, is giving advice to girls. "When a terribly handsome French cavalier comes a-courting and telling fairy stories, count ten before eloping with him."

Miss Callaghan did not count ten when last September she met a dashing young fellow who called himself Captain R. Gordon de Vioy. She eloped to Holister the next month. Yesterday her marriage was annulled by order of Judge E. P. Morgan.

Captain de Vioy took her to San Mateo before the wedding, and placed his mansions at her disposal. She chose the one she loved the best and later he declared he had purchased it. After the wedding, however, he persuaded his bride that they take apartments in San Francisco. His business in life was to head an airplane manufacturing company, according to himself. Then Captain de Vioy went for a walk.

When he came back his bride knew that he was not a Frenchman, but of Russian origin; that his name was not de Vioy but Fedelman. The bride had made an investigation of her husband's luggage. Romance waited on inquisitiveness and she learned much of the man whom she had married. There was accusation, confession and separation.

Miss June Van Austin, a yeomanette, residing at 131 Irving street, was a witness for Miss Callaghan. The bold tales of her gallant lover and his handsome dress appealed to the romantic side of Miss Callaghan's nature, according to her friend.

Prisoner Escapes; Handcuff on Wrist

Archie Rand, accused peddler of illicit narcotics, is in the city prison, and the police are looking for a second man, with a handcuff locked to my wrist, as the result of a fight last night when J. Pavatt, inspector for the pharmacy board, attempted to arrest Rand and a supposed partner.

According to Pavatt the men attacked him while he was trying to handcuff them together. Pavatt subdued Rand with a blackjack, the other man, handcuffs dangling from his wrist, escaping. Rand was treated at the emergency hospital before being taken to the city jail.

BOGUS CHECKS APPEAR

Department stores in San Francisco were flooded yesterday with a series of small checks drawn on the First National Bank of Oakland and signed by G. B. Wilbur. The checks were bogus and a warning has been issued by Hale Brothers to members of the Retail Credit Men's Association in the bay cities.

PETERSEN SHIFTS PLAN OF OFFICES

House moving started today in the central police station in the city hall. With the advent of Captain of Inspection William F. Petersen things moved fast and furiously. Petersen at once arranged to take back his old offices, which were turned over to the neutrality bureau during the war, and which connect to the special corridors from the jail elevators, whereby prisoners can be taken directly from his office to the jail. This system, devised by Petersen when the city hall was built, had been in disuse since his departure.

The remains of the neutrality bureau will be moved to an office on the ground floor of the city hall, formerly occupied by a draft board, and another of these rooms will be turned over for an office for the desk sergeants, where they will be able to handle their clerical work and reports without being interrupted in the old office.

The present office of captain of inspection will be used for clerical work of the inspectors' bureau. The regular captain's office, with its special corridors and special arrangements was vacated during the incumbency of Inspector Harry Green as acting captain after Petersen had left for army duty. The newly formed neutrality bureau, created with Captain Petersen's arrival, had, and while working with its volunteer "war time police," took over the office, installed a counter and a window similar to a ticket window in a theater, and otherwise changed the office.

Since the disbarring of the neutrality bureau, after the Bartenders' club raid, the rooms have been supplied with neutrality bureau records and Federal operatives. Petersen will move in as soon as alterations may be made.

Do YOU want to make $500 grow into $20,000, as many others HAVE done?

HERE is an opportunity for you to make a sound, safe investment in a dividend paying Preferred Stock, yielding eight per cent per year But WITH the preferred stock goes COMMON stock, which means a full share in the PROFITS.

These are the securities of an established, very successful and rapidly growing Motor Truck Company whose sales are expanding every week. Its net earnings for LAST year were very considerably more than the amount of the dividend on the Preferred Stock. The NEW BUSINESS offered would earn the Preferred Dividend many times over.

By all the rules which govern sound investments your money is SAFE in the Preferred Stock. The Common Stock may do for you what Billy Grove's common stock did for him.

Billy Grove was a clerk in the Downey House, Lansing, Mich. In 1904 he put $1000 in the original issue of Reo Motor stock. Today his fortune is counted at $119,000. There are many like Billy Grove who enjoy incomes of thousands of dollars every year from the COMMON STOCK of automobile concerns which cost them but a few hundred

A Few Examples.

In eight years the investment of $1,000 in stock of the Chalmers Motor Company grew to $16,666 stock and earned $9,297 cash dividends. In six years $1,000 stock of the Stutz Motor Car Company of Indiana grew to $2,000 stock and earned $21,750 in cash dividends. In the Hudson Motor Car Company $1,000 stock grew to $20,000 stock in FOUR YEARS and in addition the company paid cash dividends which have not been made public. In the Hup Motor Car Company $1,000 stock grew in seven years to $40,000 stock and earned $48,160 cash dividends.

In the Reo Motor Car Company in thirteen years $1,000 stock grew to $12,000 stock and earned $12,850 cash dividends. In addition the company in 1913 distributed to its stockholders $600,000 stock in the Reo Motor Truck Company, equal to a 30% dividend, and THEN, afterward, paid a 7% cash dividend on the stock of the Truck Company.

Due to the rapid growth of the Motor industry it has been customary for concerns with large earnings to declare stock dividends to stockholders. Thus a company with 10,000 shares of common stock and net earnings of $3,000,000 for the year would be able to pay a cash dividend of $3,000 to each owner of $1,000 of common stock. But rather than make such an unbalanced payment they would probably—as they frequently do—first increase the capitalization and give each owner of $1,000 of common stock perhaps $10,000 MORE common stock and THEN pay a cash dividend of 25%, giving him $3,000 in cash on the common stock which he then owned. Its MARKET value, or the price a stock paying such dividends should bring in case the owner wanted to sell it, would probably be about $44,000. One good year with business conditions prosperous has enabled many automobile companies to make net earnings of over $3,000,000. Net earnings of $10,000,000, $20,000,000 and even $40,000,000 for a single year are not uncommon. That is how so many comfortable fortunes have grown from very small investments in the MOTOR industry. That is why it is entirely possible for YOU to place $500 in the Preferred Stock we offer you, have your money safely and soundly invested, with an excellent opportunity to have the COMMON stock which goes with the preferred grow to $20,000 or more in a time not far distant.

Motor Truck Profits.

In the Federal MOTOR Truck Company $1,000 stock grew in six years to $30,000 stock and earned $12,180 cash dividends. What the automobile concerns did in the way of large earnings the successful Motor Truck Companies are JUST BEGINNING TO DO.

The war has revolutionized the use of Motor Trucks and the movement of freight, raw materials and merchandise. Every one knows that Motor Trucks won the war, that their wonderful mobility, strength, lasting qualities and great carrying capacity enabled us to arm, equip and maintain over three million men with unheard-of speed, and that the armies and peoples of all Europe learned the need and value of Motor Trucks just as we learned it. What few of the general public know is that the vast, but exactly tabulated, records of war use show that a horse or mule CONSUMES twenty-five per cent as much as it PRODUCES. A standard Motor Truck consumes LESS than ONE PER CENT as much as it produces, and this consumption includes operation maintenance, repairs and replacements. Moreover, the life of a Motor Truck working at full capacity every day is twice as long as the life of a horse or mule working at full capacity every day. During the war horses working at maximum capacity for ten consecutive days were often killed by the strain of those ten days.

Now that the war is over the whole world has waked up to the imperative need of Motor Trucks. Europe has never learned quantity production of automobiles or trucks. South America, Africa and Asia are not machinery manufacturing countries. America is the Motor Truck builder for the World.

Unparalleled Demand

The demand for trucks for commercial use THIS YEAR is greater than ALL the trucks built in this country for private use in the last FOUR YEARS. Just as the freight carrying business of the railroads entirely dwarfed the passenger carrying business, so the demand for the freight carrying motor truck is beginning to RUN AWAY from the passenger carrying automobiles. It is becoming so that a man CAN have a pleasure car if he feels he can afford it, but he MUST have a FLEET of Motor Trucks in his business or he cannot hope to equal the low costs of his competitors.

At the Chicago and New York Motor Truck shows just concluded the Truck Company whose stock we offer you was besieged by Truck dealers who sought to place orders for more trucks for THIS YEAR than the company has manufactured in the last THREE years, and their output has been large.

You CAN'T turn the clock back ten years and buy the original issue of Reo stock and so run $1,000 into $119,000, like Billy Grove did. But you CAN secure stock in this Motor Truck Company which has the opportunity for growth and earnings in the next three years to a volume which should make pleasure car earnings look SMALL.

Assets.

The Truck Company has a splendid property of 43 acres within 30 miles of New York City. Its fifteen buildings are the last word in modern construction. The assets directly behind the Preferred Stock we offer you are vastly greater than the outstanding preferred. Its facilities, buildings, machinery and equipment are all complete and are ready for an increase of output to FOUR TIMES the present output.

Management.

Its management consists of men prominent in the Motor industry since its inception, successful in the extreme and known throughout the nation. They are leaders in the industry and are particularly well known to the best dealers throughout the country, whose confidence they possess through many years of fair dealing and mutual profit.

The department heads are men who have spent their lifetimes in quantity production and the workmen are of a grade so superior that it would be difficult to duplicate this organization.

Type of Truck.

The company manufactures a one and one-half ton truck, and records show that 76% of ALL merchant users and 90% of ALL farmers require this type of truck. In addition the company manufactures a powerful, sturdy, short coupled chassis which pulls two-wheeled bodies of three and one-half and five ton capacity. Thus it serves EVERY need of industry, which is why the volume of available orders is so great.

Security.

There are no bonds or other obligations ahead of the stock we offer you. There is directly behind the Preferred Stock assets in property, factory buildings, material, trucks in process of manufacture and completed shipments on the road to dealers far greater than the total Preferred issued or now offered. That is why you can consider your money to be so safely and soundly invested in this Preferred, which has a record of paying 8% dividends.

Use for the Money.

This offering of Preferred and Common stock is to provide funds to increase production through the purchase of materials. There is a need for OVER a quarter of a million of trucks THIS YEAR in this country and abroad, MANY TIMES more than can possibly be supplied. The orders available to this Truck Company are TWENTY-ONE TIMES its output for last year. If it can supply the needs of the territory served by its BEST dealers it will mean an increase over last year's production of 6,000 trucks and ADDITIONAL earnings of over $1,200,000, to say NOTHING of the demand from many NEW dealers and for export. Its trucks are in use in fifteen foreign countries NOW and repeat orders for export are increasing every week.

It is a big year for earnings on the Common stock. It may be YOUR chance to do what Billy Grove did.

How You Get the Common Stock.

Every purchaser of two shares of Preferred stock which is sold at its par value of $10.00 is entitled to buy one share of Common stock for $1.00.

Thus $63.00 buys six shares of Preferred and three shares of Common.

$105.00 buys ten shares of Preferred and 25 shares of Common.

$504.00 buys 48 shares of Preferred and 24 shares of Common.

$1,008.00 buys 96 shares of Preferred and 48 shares of Common.

You can buy on the Partial Payment Plan if you prefer.

In our opinion there is no security offered in the market today which combines to give you the opportunity of sound, sure, safe investment of your money in a high grade 8% Preferred Stock with a record of earnings and dividends behind it, and at the same time the opportunity of making a fortune, as Billy Grove did, from the enormous expansion of an industry due to world changes which never CAN occur again in our lifetime.

FISH AND GAME.

Assemblyman Eden of Orange County has offered a resolution calling for a legislative investigation of the State Fish and Game Commission. From its text it would appear that the commission is suspected of incompetence and extravagance, dereliction of duty and favoritism toward certain interests. But these implications should not be taken, in the absence of reliable evidence, as being as formidable as Mr. Eden makes them appear. They are intimations such as might be written into any resolution of investigation.

But there is one thing the Legislature might properly do and which ought to be done forthwith. That is to survey the policy which by its authority the Fish and Game Commission has pursued during the past several years. It is the general understanding of the people of the State that the object of the fish and game laws is to conserve the fish and game resources of the State to a reasonable extent and to provide for increasing those resources by protecting game in proper season and by propagating and distributing fish to the various streams of the State. The people have believed, as they had a right to do, that these laws were intended for the general benefit.

There is ample ground for the suspicion, however, that the Fish and Game Commission has thought more of the pleasure of the sporting hunter and fisherman than of the people who depend upon fish and game as an important item of their food. It is flagrant that the sportsmen, as individuals and as clubs, have received favorable attention to their representations, while the method of dealing with the individual who fishes for food and the casual vacationist is to coerce him with arrest and fines.

There is the case of the upper McCloud river. The State has distributed fish to it season after season at great public expense. But members of the McCloud Country Club, controlling land on each side of the river, have posted anti-trespass signs and the waters of the McCloud river are not available to the people.

There have been other instances of unjust and arbitrary laws and administration of the laws, such as the creation of a special fish reserve embracing Lake Tahoe, the prohibition against the sale of ducks and lake and river trout.

The main purpose of the Fish and Game Commission seems to be to provide a paradise for the relatively small number of citizens and tourists whose means and leisure permit them to indulge the sport of hunting and fishing.

That these persons are entitled to some consideration there is no wish to deny. But the fish and game of California are for the whole people. Laws should be designed to realize this idea and for any defect in the laws the Legislature is responsible. Still, an investigation to ascertain how far the Fish and Game Commission has amplified the exclusive spirit of the laws may not be untimely.

THE STORY REPEATED.

Chicago is rubbing a sore head over the result of the municipal elections held Tuesday. William Hale Thompson, who was the subject of numerous unfavorable references and complaints during the war and who gratuitously branded Chicago as one of the principal "German" cities of the country, was re-elected as mayor.

A large majority of the citizens of Chicago do not care for Mayor Thompson and did not want to see him retained in office. With a powerful political organization, running at high speed under the advantage of being in control of the municipal administration, Thompson polled only 37 per cent of the total vote cast.

But this was sufficient to elect him, because the remainder of the vote was distributed among five other candidates. Thus the people of Chicago, although fully aware of the undesirability of Thompson as mayor, failed to concentrate on the idea of ousting him from office. They served their personal fancies regarding the other candidates and the man that 63 per cent wished to defeat triumphed.

Many other cities have had experiences similar to that of Chicago, and will continue to do so until the voters show a more intelligent and responsive consciousness of the public welfare.

VOLUNTEERS FOR THE ARMY.

Reports indicate that the call of the War Department for 50,000 volunteers for duty in France to relieve drafted men which it is desired to bring home is meeting a gratifying response. Such was expected. There are many men who have been overseas, but who did not get into actual fighting, that would like to go back and take the chance of something turning up. There are many others who were enlisted under the selective draft act but who did not get overseas at all, and there may be some, though not many, who are willing to volunteer for service in Europe after the fighting is apparently over.

That these volunteers will be sent across the water almost immediately there can be little doubt. It will likely be several months before the central powers finally ratify the peace agreement, and in the meantime it will be necessary for the Allies to maintain an armed force adequate to guard against any Hun trickery. The United States will be called upon to maintain part of this precautionary army.

Upon the day that peace is officially declared the problem of disbanding the draft army and discharging a large portion of the regular army will become acute. The drafted men were summoned for the duration of the present war and must be discharged within a reasonable time after the war is officially ended. The greater part of the men in the regular army who volunteered to fight enlisted for the period of the war only. The men who were mobilized into the war establishment by way of the pre-war militia organizations will also demand that they be returned to civil life immediately peace is declared. According to figures given out at Washington there are in Europe only about 50,000 men who enlisted before the war for a fixed period.

It is, of course, incumbent upon the War Department to see to it that all the men who so desire be returned to civil life as soon as practicable. But in view of the prevailing situation in Europe which makes it necessary to retain a large American force near the German frontiers, there must be some delays or a volunteer force to relieve them.

Congress failed to enact in the last session legislation that was badly needed to meet the emergency. It did, however, in its last hours, authorize the War Department to restore voluntary enlistment. This is the only device the government has to aid the discharge of men who were enrolled for the war only in advance of the final declaration of peace.

BACK TOWARD EARTH.

That pro-German Bolshevik, Nicolai Lenine, desires to open negotiations with the Allied governments. Although it is perfectly known that Lenine is as untrustworthy as any German official, it is hard to say what course the Allied authorities in Paris may adopt regarding his overtures. They may show a disposition to compromise. But, however that may be, it is evident that the Bolshevik regime is undergoing a change of ideas. The willingness to deal with other governments is not the only indication.

The Soviet administration has published an advertisement offering large remuneration for capable men in certain industries and managerial occupations. On the other hand it is enforcing labor of the unskilled variety at state regulated prices. It is requiring its deluded votaries to work and to permit the products of their toil to be sold for the support of other elements of the social body and to pay money—metallic currency preferred to Bolshevik paper—for products furnished by other workers. Lenine wants greater labor efficiency, a "speeding up" program of production, and he is employing stern measures and moneyed inducements as the circumstances of the case may require.

Does not this sound familiar? Perhaps the methods were employed by the hated "bourgeoisie" and the abused "capitalistic" system against which the Lenine regime has declared a program. Perhaps they were known wherever three or more men with different capacities and different tastes were thrown together any place in the world.

CALIFORNIA COAL.

The United States Geological Survey claims that it has discovered a commercial value to California coal. For many years lignite has been mined near Ione. It has been used as fuel only to an unimportant extent because it contains a large quantity of moisture and does not burn very well.

Recently, however, the geological survey tested this lignite to determine whether it would not yield oil on destructive distillation. The result of these tests show that the best lignite will yield sixty-two gallons of oil to the ton, and as a by-product at least eighteen pounds of ammonium sulphate, which is valuable as a fertilizer.

To all appearances the bed containing the oil-bearing coal is not very extensive. But if it proves to be a source of oil and gasoline it is almost sure to receive serious attention. By separating the volatile matter from the moisture California coal may yet prove of considerable importance.

NOTES and COMMENT

Notice of the sale of the John Muir home, near Mariposa, may excite wonder that it was not established as a shrine, to commemorate a personality that California and the world has done honor to. As the heirs did not see their way to such action something might have been done in the way of public effort.

Food prices may be grievously, even outrageously, high, but boycotting is not likely to help the situation. Boycotting seldom helps anything. Which observation is evoked by a news item to the effect that a boycott is to be instituted in a town not far distant against milkmen.

The man who justified a forgery by explaining that it was in connection with a death benefit and was felt to be allowable because deceased owed the sum that was forged, had a queer way of reasoning, and, it may be concluded, so did the magistrate who let him off on such an explanation.

Secretary Baker has officially decided that any liquor which contains over 1.4 per cent alcohol is intoxicating. But the decision is not scientific. It is dead reckoning and is effective only within the confines of his authority. The interesting question remains to what voltage is liquor intoxicating.

Chicago turned out unusually at its city election, approximately seven-eighths of the registration going to the polls. Mayor Thompson was triumphant again, and it was so wet that swimming should have been easy.

The miscreant wielder of the hypodermic needle is leaving quite a trail, and there may be a question as to what had best be done with him when caught. For the present statutes will totally fail to meet his case.

Berkeley's mayor, who refused to permit the use of a school auditorium by a Bolshevik lecturer, is remembering Ole Hanson of Seattle. The lecturer claims to be only a Socialist, but the mayor seems to have been unable to differentiate and was determined to be on the safe side.

SPIRIT OF THE STATE PRESS.

Senator Anderson's bill relating to the display of any picture "which might excite race hatred," developed into quite an ethnological study. It was all the fault of Senator Duncan, who succeeded in amending the bill so as to classify the races by color—white, black, red, brown and yellow.

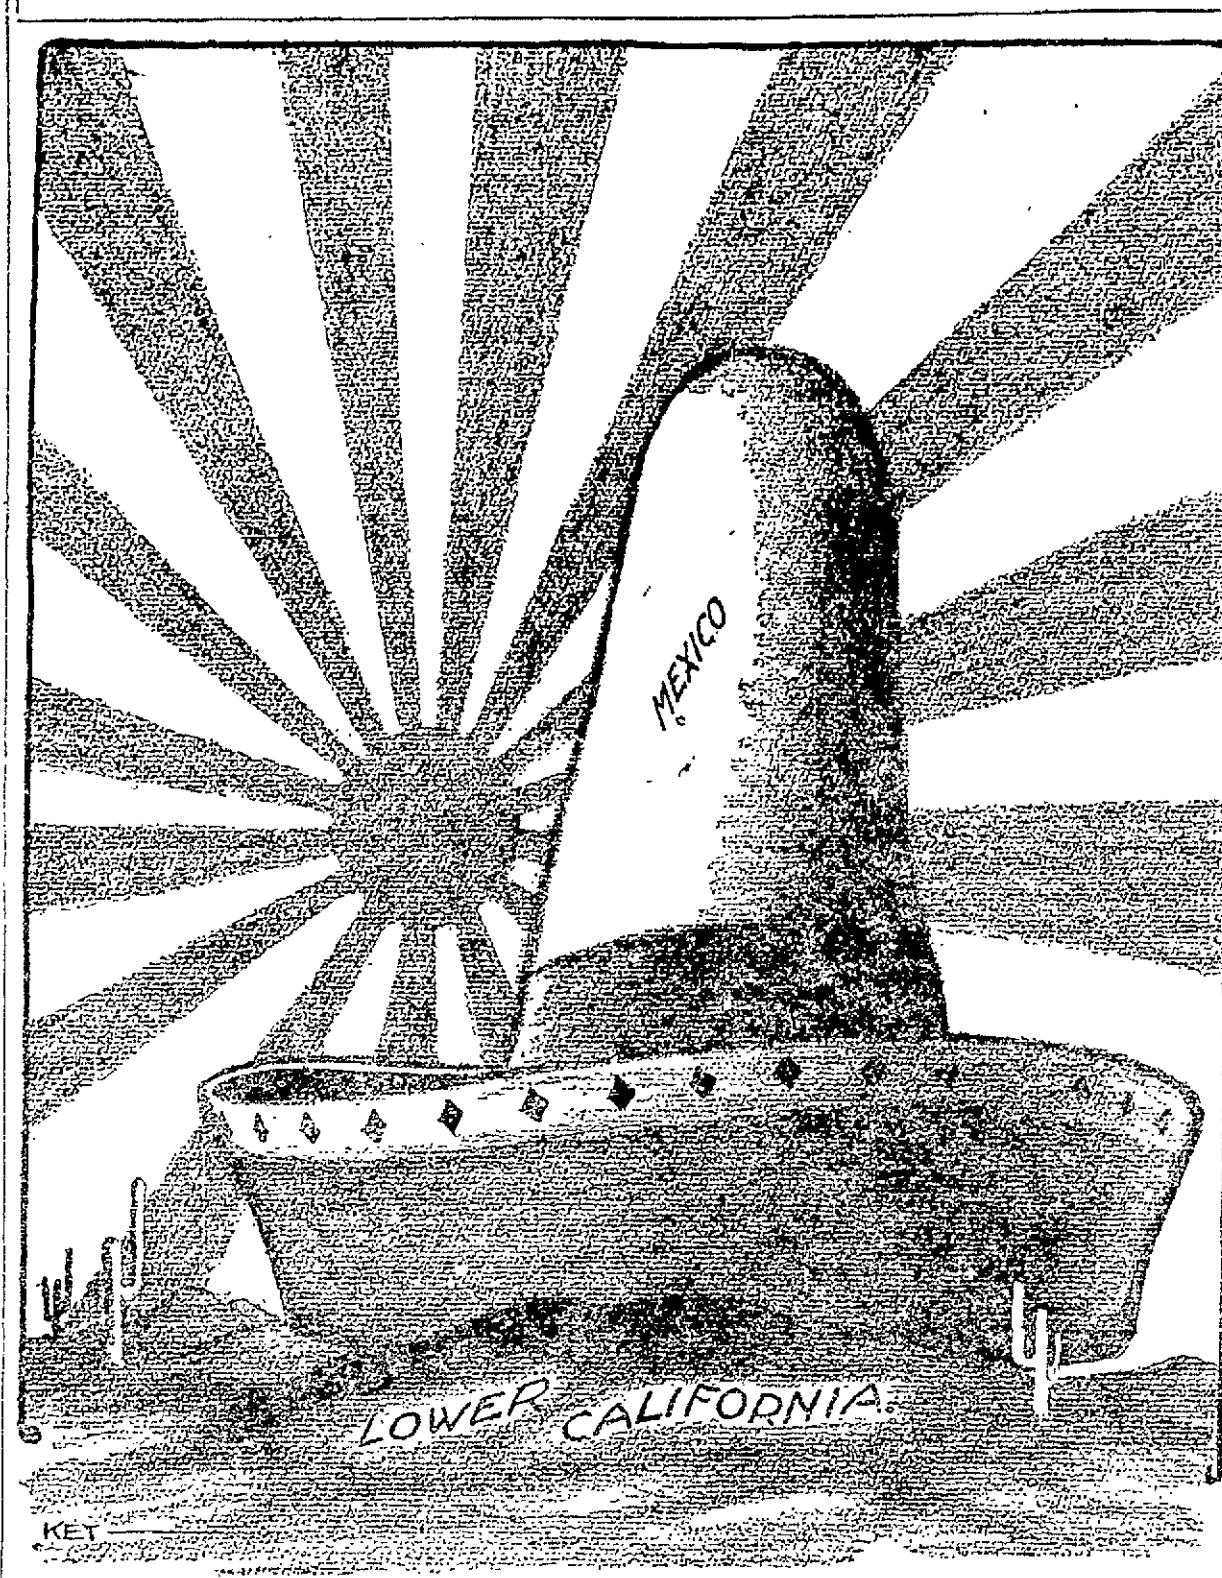

Senator, a German is a "white man." "And another, 'he is yellow.'"

The question, "Is a dentist a mechanic or a doctor?" which has been raised in a local court, is not so easy to answer as it seems. Some people will tell you that he is a mechanic, for he feels like a pile-driver. Others, who judge from the sense of taste, will assert that he is a doctor. Still others will claim that he is a dentist, but a dentist in earnest. Of course the memory of a session in a dentist's chair is still fresh in the minds of such witnesses.—Fresno Mirror.

A "Dutch treat" society is contemplated at the University of California, similar to one at the University of Michigan, which would make it a breach of etiquette for a co-ed to accept chocolates and sundries from any member of the club. This would keep the co-eds from playing the "Dutch treat" game, and would undoubtedly reduce the cost of the higher education.—Stockton Record.

WHAT'S UNDER THE HAT?

ST. PAUL'S—A Church With a Story

"Even the war could not stop work on St. Paul's Cathedral in London. The famous church, like the English constitution, represents a growth of centuries and not a definite period of construction."

This statement is made in a bulletin of the National Geographic Society in connection with a London dispatch which notes a request for additional funds to complete repair work on St. Paul's.

"England's esteem for the historic edifice is shown by the continuation of the restoration work throughout the war despite the interruption of practically all other building," the bulletin says.

"Still fresh in public memory is the notable service of consecration, attended by royalty and distinguished Americans then in London, held in St. Paul's, April 20, 1917, to commemorate the entry of the United States into the war."

"St. Paul's is the latest Protestant church in the world. Its dome is one of the most beautiful. The church embodies architectural ideas of many periods, because it is not the product of a generation, or even a century. True, Sir Christopher Wren is credited with the structure as it stands today, but he embodied many features of the famous 'Old St. Paul's,' razed in the great London fire of 1666. Wren did not wish the restoration to be after the 'Gothick' badness of the old design. But he was compelled to add to the old structure, and he added a great deal."

"To this famous mathematician, astronomer and architect the London fire blew much good. He had commissions to draw plans for rebuilding half a hundred churches. From these were modeled many of the American churches of Colonial days. For his masterpiece, St. Paul's, Sir Christopher is said to have received less than the equivalent of $1000 a year, an amount which might engage the attention of a modern architect. From the ruins emerged 'Old St. Paul's.' The building was paid for by a tax on sea-borne coal to London."

"Travelers are apt to pass by an inscription on the south porch pediment, 'Resurgam' (I shall rise again), as a religious reference to the resurrection. When the architect was standing for an afterthought to mark the center of the projected dome. He asked a workman to hand him a stone. The workman chanced to pick up a chip from an old tomb bearing the inscription, which Sir Christopher adopted."

"The motto was appropriate. Some historians believe the crumpled Lidgate hill site originally was that of a Roman shrine of Diana. A Christian church is known to have been built there in the early seventh century. It was burned two decades later William the Conqueror came to England. From the ruins emerged 'Old St. Paul's.' Fire destroyed that building, too, but it was restored on an even more pretentious scale."

"At the 'Old St. Paul's' John Wycliffe faced the charge of heresy. Tyndale's New Testament was burned. Wolsley heard the reading of the papal condemnation of Luther and under 'Pope's Cross,' now marked by a memorial, heretics were forced to recant and witches to confess."

"Even before the great fire 'Old St. Paul's' was crumbling, partly from a succession of lightning strokes and partly from neglect. Wine cellars and workshops were to be found beneath its lengthy corridors. The old building was nearly as long as the Union station at Washington. The nave became Paul's 'Walk,' a promenade."

"Two towers, as well as the dome, make the now St. Paul's conspicuous. In one tower 'Great Paul,' a 17-ton bell, booms out daily at 1 p. m. A

HEALTH and HAPPINESS

Carelessness of Posture a Cause of "Bent Back"

BY DR. LEONARD K. HIRSHBERG A. B., M. A., M. D. (Johns Hopkins University.)

The most careful examination of patients with bowed, flexed or bent backs generally reveals no internal or external structural changes. A cramp or kink in the muscles of the small of the back may be produced by the victim's occupation, posture, habits, exercise, play, sky-larking or accidents termed sprains, bruises or jars. For example, in falls or injuries which throw you down suddenly, there is too much abrupt force thrown upon the lower part of the back. An erect position then is not always pleasant and the pain and soreness are eased somewhat by a flexed or bent posture.

Here is an example: One patient, a man of 30, was injured as the result of a 115-pound box toppling over on him. The box fell across his stomach, but he paid little attention to the matter at the time.

Two weeks or so later his back assumed the bent position, and he was soon convinced that he had Bright's disease.

Meanwhile, he became still more bent, and the pain in his back increased of all kinds of sympathy.

Finally he was committed to a thorough examination of his troubles. His kidneys as well as his internal fabric were found to be sound, and the X-ray and other tests proved him right in every physical way.

Finally the patient recalled that a box had fallen on him. This explanation had a psychological influence which aided massage, gymnastics, swimming and electricity soon to restore his spinal column to a normal posture.

A case of this nature makes it plain that long continued muscular immobility tends to cause bent backs. Inertia, laziness, habits, suggestion, carelessness and a jelly-fish will also be more or less responsible for a "bent back," the original name of which trouble Dr. G. W. Hall of Chicago says is "complicocoma."

Let's Take a Flight Today

H. E. LAW SUED BY DIVORCEE FOR $100,000

A "fairy drink" may cost Herbert E. Law, millionaire San Francisco realty owner, $100,000, if Mrs. Margaret Robbins, divorcee and musician, can prove in court that it was really as magically potent as she says it was.

Mrs. Robbins has filed suit against Law, asking for $100,000 for an alleged attack. She says that the so-called "fairy drink" contained narcotics, and that after Law gave it to her she lost consciousness for several hours.

The attack, she says, occurred in Law's country home at Woodside in March, 1916. She and the millionaire had gone to Woodside to look over the country house, she says, when Law suggested a drink.

"A DRINK FOR FAIRIES."

"Here's a drink, the fairies have prepared for you," she says he told her when he offered her a concoction, the contents of which she says she does not know.

"I took the drink," says Mrs. Robbins, "and soon began to feel drowsy. After that all was a blank. It was around midnight, I presume, when I took the drink."

"When I awoke it was about 2 o'clock in the morning. Mr. Law was seated beside me. After I had cried and made a scene I demanded to be taken home at once. He did not accede to my request until the afternoon."

"When I realized what had happened to me Mr. Law said I was powerless to institute proceedings against him because I had been married and divorced."

"For days he was most attentive to me, sending me flowers and candy and placing his automobile at my disposal. His chauffeur would call with the car and say that Mr. Law insisted that I use it."

"I HAVE SUFFERED GREATLY AND BELIEVE I AM ENTITLED TO EVERY PENNY OF THE DAMAGES I HAVE CLAIMED AGAINST MR. LAW."

Mrs. Robbins said she did not bring the suit earlier because Law told her that as a widow she had no legal redress from an attack. It was only recently, she said, that she learned that she had.

The formal complaint, as filed by Attorney F. H. Dum, sets forth that the defendant administered to plaintiff certain intoxicating and narcotic and anesthetic substances, the composition whereof is to the plaintiff unknown; that is to say, the defendant then and there prepared and offered to plaintiff a certain drink containing such substances, and plaintiff partook thereof; that the same immediately brought a drowsiness and sleep over plaintiff and then, and there prevented plaintiff from resisting all and singular the acts of the defendant hereinafter set forth.

Law is divorced. He is the owner of the Monarch building in San Francisco, former owner of the Fairmont hotel, and author of a book, "The Law of Mental Demand." According to the complaint, she first met him at a dinner party when she was a student of Rigo Music College. She says Law made a love to her, calling her "dorothy," because "such a nice little girl as she ought to be called Dorothy," and leading her, she says, to believe he was proposing marriage to her.

Law is said to be fast on a business trip.

Girl Missing Three Months, Police Told

Mrs. S. Chervin of 1875 Church street, San Francisco, has appealed to the police to help her find her 15-year-old daughter, 2586, who has been missing since last December 24. On that day, says Mrs. Chervin, she left home and all efforts to trace her since among friends have been fruitless. She had brown hair, gray eyes, a dark complexion, two moles on the right side of her cheek and wore a brown suit with a black hat and black Oxford.

THEFTS MAY GIVE CLEW TO DYNAMITERS

Investigation of the storage of dynamite by construction companies in Oakland, following the theft from the Oakland Paving company and the subsequent dynamiting of the George Greenwood home, in which Mrs. Greenwood was killed, has led to federal action, developed today. John W. Preston, special assistant to the attorney general of the United States, has filed information against the company, alleging that it has violated the federal statutes as to storage of explosives.

The government charges that the company kept a large quantity of dynamite in a magazine in a small canyon near Livermore, without displaying warning signs or obeying other federal regulations. It is further charged that the place was not a proper one in which to store dynamite and that the man in charge was not licensed to handle explosives.

The complaint is the outgrowth of the bomb tragedy. Shortly before the Greenwood bombing a quantity of explosives was stolen from the paving company, and the corporation investigating the explosion, took into custody two construction laborers on the theory that they might have obtained dynamite from which nitroglycerine had been boiled to make the bomb for the Greenwood tragedy. These men were, however, later released.

CAREFULNESS DENTED. Superintendent A. E. Bontrager of the Oakland Paving company says that so far as he knows the dynamite was legally stored by his company, and denies that carelessness was used in handling it. He admits that some had been stolen from the company's magazine.

In connection with the Greenwood explosion the police are also tracing back the attempted dynamiting of the Dalton foundry in West Oakland, two months before the banker's home was attacked.

Laborers found a cache of ten sticks of dynamite under the foundry, and Detective William Kyle, who investigated at the time, expressed the theory that this might not have been intended for the Dalton foundry, but might have been stored there to be removed later and used for another crime. This cache, the police believe, may have been the dynamite intended to be used in the Greenwood bombing. If this can be established it indicates that the perpetrators of the Greenwood outrage were probably employed for several months in some industrial plant or shipyard on the waterfront, and would probably connect the plotters with several shipyard and other bomb attempts.

MAINTAINS IGNORANCE. Pavel Melnicoff, the Russian Bolshevik teacher, held by the federal authorities in connection with the case and accused by District Attorney C. M. Fickert of carrying a "death list" of prospective bomb victims, on which the name of Greenwood appeared, still maintains his ignorance of the Greenwood case, file admits being in Oakland on the day of the explosion, but says he was not near the Greenwood home. Melnicoff was arrested in San Francisco, and is said by the federal authorities to be an expert chemist and bomb maker, and founder of "schools" of Bolshevism in Seattle and here. He was studying chemistry at the University of California prior to his arrest.

MACHINISTS MAY RETURN, SAY LEADERS

A plan which it is believed will result in the striking machinists returning to work immediately will be presented at a special meeting of the Machinists' Union which is being held at the Valencia Theater, San Francisco, this afternoon. Labor leaders said today that they believed the plan would be acceptable to the men.

The plan was evolved as a result of conferences which have been held between representatives of the California Metal Trades Association, the Iron Trades and Robert Fochner and William Hannon of the executive board of the International Association of Machinists.

The Emergency Fleet Corporation has guaranteed the continuance of the May wage scale in the Pacific Coast shipyards until October 1, in order to stabilize industrial conditions during the reconstruction period, according to Robert H. Brotherton of the industrial relations department of the shipping board. Brotherton, who returned from Washington last night, said that the corporation would maintain the working conditions of the May award unless they are changed by a mutual agreement between the employers and the men.

Local Men Now in Camp Merritt 363d Heroes Being Mustered Out Veterans to Be Home in One Week

NEW YORK, April 3.—Today saw practically the last of the 363d Regiment of Infantry, Californians of the San Francisco bay counties, off to Camp Merritt, which is expected to complete their demobilization within four or five days, and turn them loose for their trip home. At the present figuring the men should arrive at Oakland and San Francisco by Thursday or Friday of next week, though the exact date still is uncertain.

Mayor Ralph of San Francisco and other bay cities men who were here to receive the returning Californians have given them a foretaste of what they may expect from the moment their trains arrive home. They are all anxious for that moment to arrive, less for the hilarious party ahead than for the chance to get back to home and their loved ones.

Receptions continued for the returning men continued last night and today. Colonel Sorley was host at a dinner affair yesterday. Mayor and Mrs. Ralph of San Francisco, Captain C. F. Joekel, Berkeley librarian, and Mrs. Joekel and others were among the guests. Several officers of the regiment and their wives were guests at a dinner given last evening by Mayor and Mrs. Ralph.

Various accounts of the service that individuals in the regiment rendered in France began to develop. Among the most stirring were the unusual experience of Corporal Carl Burro of Oakland and Private Andrew Vavasis.

Both men were in the front line during the big Belgium push which began on October 21, and, as they were advancing, they noticed two German officers and six men, attempting to escape, with a gun carriage drawn by four horses and mounting a big 77-millimeter gun. Vavasis started in pursuit of the escaping Germans and, calling to Burro to follow, went crashing through a barbed-wire fence after the men, yelling like an Indian.

GERMANS WORSTED. The Germans whipped up the horses and were gaining on their pursuers when Vavasis killed one of the leading horses. The other horses halted and before the eight Germans could cut them free from the dead animal and start off again, Vavasis and Burro had them covered with their rifles and marched them back to the American lines ahead of the gun carriage and three horses which followed behind them.

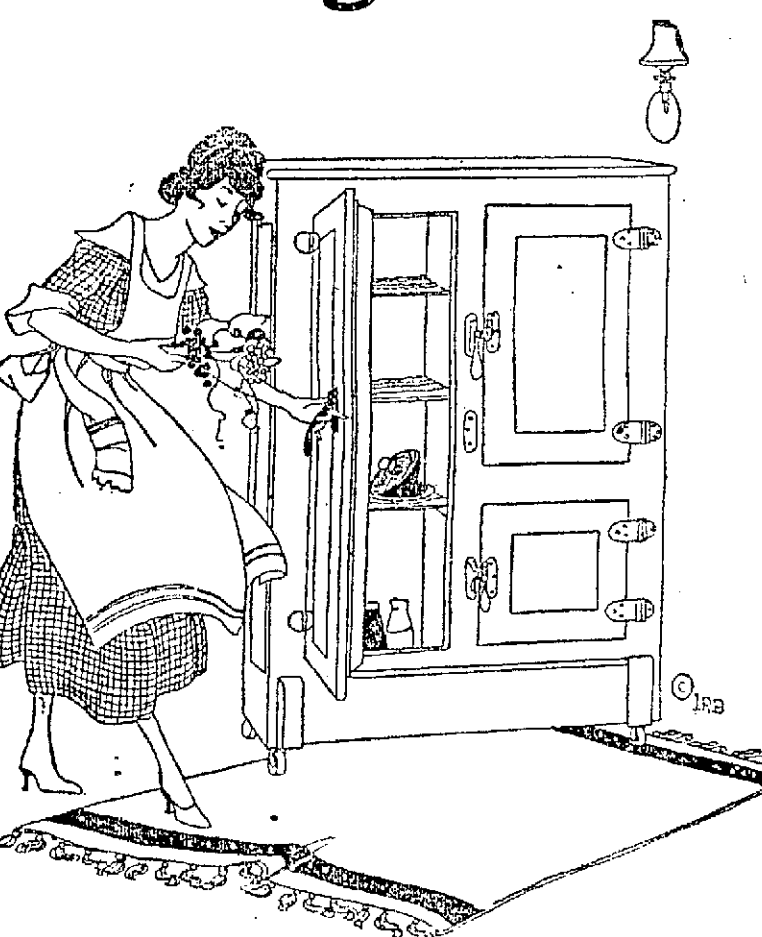

As they entered the American lines they were pounced upon by the military police and placed under arrest for having crossed through the barbed wire fence.

BROWN LOSES HIS HAYWARD BAR LICENSE

HAYWARD, April 3.—After a stormy debate lasting two hours, during which numerous attempts were made to prolong the hearing, the Hayward Board of Trustees last night revoked the retail liquor license of Harry J. Brown, after affidavits of the immoral character of the place from women who resided there had been read.

No witnesses were produced by Attorney Phil Carey of Oakland, representing the defense, who later attempted to secure the issuance of subpoenas to all members of the Oakland City Council, to City Clerk Lou Cummings of Oakland, to sundry members of the Oakland police department and to 65 residents of Oakland living near Fifteenth and Jefferson streets, who had petitioned to the Oakland council against the granting of Harry Brown's application for a liquor license there.

The first warm days reveal the need of a Refrigerator

Food spoils very quickly outside a refrigerator as soon as the days grow warmer. And waste of food is painfully out of tune with the spirit of the times.

It may not seem much to you if you waste half an ounce of butter and an ounce of meat daily, but if every home in the United States does the same it amounts to a waste of 114,000,000 pounds of butter and 465,000,000 pounds of meat annually. The Food Administration says the actual waste is even greater. And millions are starving in Europe.

The nationally advertised

Leonard Cleanable Refrigerator

BELATED ARRIVAL OF HAMILTON PREVENTS CUTTING DOWN OF SQUAD

Peoria Manager Will Attend Game Today Between Oakland And the California Varsity

Clyde Wares Mistakes Unoffending Citizen for the Baseball Scout in Disguise

Jimmy Hamilton, the missing manager of the Peoria Club, was located last night and promised to attend the baseball game between the Oaks and U. C. Varsity this afternoon. Jimmy took a jaunt to Pittsburgh yesterday afternoon to give the bees the up and down and he arrived here too late to see the boys workout. Hamilton was the guest of Del Howard at dinner last night and the pair probably cooked-up a deal whereby several Oaks will go to Peoria.

Hamilton received a list of the players from whom he can choose and this morning he was still consulting the list. Jimmy will want to see the kids in action before offering them contracts and it is not at all unlikely that he will refuse to take all the athletes Del offers him as Eddie Herr has also offered the Peoria Club some talent.

By BOB SHAND.

Jimmy Hamilton, manager of the Peoria Club and the gentleman who was supposed to look our Oaks over, arrived in town yesterday morning and a mysterious guy with long whiskers, smoked glasses and gumboots occupied a seat in the grandstand during afternoon practice. In the meantime Secretary Herbie McFarlin pumped his bicycle tires full of air regardless of cost and scoured the surrounding country for the elusive Mr. Hamilton. It was known that the manager left Portland for Oakland last Monday and information was received at baseball headquarters that Jimmy was in the lobby of a local hotel at noon.

Nobody thought of concealing the mysterious bewhiskered guy in the grandstand with the baseball scout until late in the afternoon when someone whispered to Clyde Wares the suspicion that the old-timer was really Jimmy Hamilton in disguise. Now there is one thing Clyde Wares hates it is a guy with a lot of camouflage on his face so the little shortstop, after pointing himself a committee of one to investigate, stealing up cautiously on the stranger Clyde made a grab for the whiskers and no official score in the world could have given him an error. But did the chinwack come off? It did instead a portly, respectable and staid citizen of the town of Emeryville let out a yelp of surprise. The yelp or could be handfuls of the finest "chewing" to square himself.

SQUAD REMAINS INTACT. Maybe Hamilton was hitting outside the necking through the grandstand but he did not come out in the open and Del Howard still has a large official baseball. Del thought that with the arrival of Hamilton he would be able to attack the grandstand and get a few more players. Now Del will have to look right on paying the athletes two fifty per cent and all the water they want to drink. Hamilton must report at the ball orchard today provided he did not get lost in the big city or go bathing in Lake Merritt.

HAVE GOOD WORKOUT. The boys had a nice workout yesterday with all hands taking a turn at batting and fielding. The squad was strictly on the ball and the pitcher to the batters and the batters to the pitcher. The pitcher to the batters and the batters to the pitcher. The pitcher to the batters and the batters to the pitcher.

ELLIOTT IN OPENER. Rowdy Elliott's sore finger is healing more rapidly than was expected and the little backstop hopes to catch the opening game against the Oakland team at Sacramento next Tuesday. The nail is off but the skin is healing nicely and the student strictly on the ball. Rowdy and Home Mize will probably alternate behind the bat. There is no jealousy between the pair of each other as they both want to win the pennant for Oakland and will allow nothing to hurt their feelings. There is a remarkable spirit of harmony rampant in the club which augurs well for the success of the Oaks in the coming pennant race.

BRUIN NINE WIN FROM ST. MARY'S

Cardinal Track And Field Men Show Up Well

By DOUG. MONTELL.

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA. April 3.—The Bruin nine got underway in the first game of intercollegiate competition on the diamond this morning when they beat the St. Mary's Hawks by a 10-0 score. Zanolfo's error had good experience against the Oaks the day before and was waiting for a chance to take a fall out of some one and consequently when Brother Venturini's hopes displayed a weak spot the California baseballers took advantage of every opportunity and soon had the score in their favor.

St. Mary's deserved to lose all the half credit for constantly beating the Bruin nine. The Cardinals' error and loss of the game behind the Bruin nine was a little bit of a surprise. "Wiz" Kremer to Pitch Against Cubs; Martin Uncorks the "Doughnut" Ball

By EDDIE MURPHY

With all the talk going the rounds that a semi-pro baseball league is to be formed for the summer and which will have as its circuit the leading towns in the north of the bay section, William Steen, manager of the Pittsburgh (Columbia Steel Co.) baseball club, is not losing any time in preparing a class A team to enter into the league and Bill says that he will show the Pittsburgh fans and others the best team that has yet represented Pittsburgh. Next Saturday and Sunday the fans can get an idea of the kind of team that will represent Pittsburgh, as Bill will take a ball club to Sacramento to play Bill Rodgers' Sacramento Coyotes two games, and the managers of the steel boys claim that the last games of the training season for the Sacramento club will prove disastrous or a disappointment to Manager Rodgers.

It is agreed that Steen will have a handy ball club this summer if he can hold onto the majority of the boys that he has in the team. Steen is just being asked to stick and play with the team. St. Mary's Swim Team Has Edge on U. C. and Others

Intercollegiate swimming is coming to be a bigger event all the time and reaching this St. Mary's went out last week and secured for their already strong team two more cracks of the local field, Walter Grace and George Schroth. Adding these to Clarence Lane and Stubby Krueger, not to mention all the other swimmers of ability, but of less fame than these, we are free to admit that St. Mary's has the edge on all other institutions in these and, we claim, any other parts. As far as competition goes, if California's plan for an intercollegiate goes through, most of these men will be eligible only for the freshman team this year. Lane, Krueger, Schroth and Grace at any rate, and it is just as well that for California's greatest strength lies in her freshmen with Sandy Goodman as the leader. Little is known of Stanford's prospects but her freshmen cannot hope to come with the first-year men of either California or St. Mary's. The freshman intercollegiate was slated for April 19, according to Executive Secretary Bob Watson of California, and the varsity intercollegiate still is on the boards for May 10, both events being billed for Neptune Beach.

Dickerson Sure He Will Hold His Job

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., April 3.—I am building no bridge over any chasm, but I do not think that a single member of the Grand Rapids team is going to resign, said J. L. Dickerson, of Grand Rapids this evening. Dickerson returned home Sunday from France, where he has served as a war correspondent. "The Grand Rapids team has no sign of a resignation," he said, "and when I left they thanked me and stated that they were going to stay with me. The club owners were not wholly against the team when I was going back to the United States."

Tucker, Morrison Box to a Draw

YAKIMA, Wash., April 3.—Leo Morrison of Salt Lake City and Tucker of Seattle boxed six rounds to a draw here last night. Tucker had the edge in the first four rounds, but Morrison's greater weight and stamina evened things up in the remainder of the bout.

Nothing Seems to Worry Paddy Siglin

SAN FRANCISCO, April 3.—The fact that he will not accept the $100,000 offer and that every other club in the Coast League granted waivers on him, is not concerning Paddy Siglin, ex-Beaver infielder. He is working out with the Seals, getting in shape for action in case McCredie settles with him or trades him to another league.

Gossip from the Training Camps

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, April 3.—Cracking out a three-bagger was a home for Eugene Robinson, a St. Louis Brownie, against the club, although chances are that he won't figure in the lineup.

ST. LOUIS, April 3.—The Cardinals were to finish off their practice today preparatory to leaving tomorrow for practice games in Indianapolis and Evansville. The Cardinals will take on Jack Hendricks (ex-Saturday) and Sunday, while the Yankees are at Louisville.

MACON, Ga., April 3.—Manager Jennings and others of his men on the way to Columbus, Ga., today for a battle with the Braves. The first of a series of fifteen games was scheduled for this afternoon.

NEW ORLEANS, La., April 3.—Jack Carey, star Indian outfielder, expects to be back in the lineup this season. Jack was out of the game most of last year because of a kink that developed in his left shoulder. This year he is throwing "em in from outfield better than ever."

PASADENA, Cal., April 3.—The Cubs were back in camp today following their 130-mile jaunt yesterday to Riverside, where they defeated a team of armers and townsmen. Hippo Vaughn worked as manager for the Cubs and was followed by Nick Carter. Today's activities included a practice game with Pasadena in the forenoon and Vernon at Los Angeles in the afternoon.

MINERAL WELLS, Texas, April 3.—"Burr" Gleason of the White Sox today had Johnny Wood, Chicago, hit a big one at the Beaver Creek camp, leave here Saturday for Vancouver, B. C. They will play with the city's Puget Sound Industrial League team.

Youngsters Are Being Groomed in Big Leagues

By JACK VELOCK

International News Service Sports Editor

NEW YORK, April 3.—Major league managers are paying an unusual amount of attention to "bookies" this spring. There are perhaps half a hundred youngsters in the camps of big league clubs below the Mason and Dixon line today, whose work is being closely watched. They were good enough to deserve a tryout and the managers are "keeping books" on them. The reason for close attention to the young players lies in the fact that but little new talent has come up from the minor leagues because of inactivity during the war.

A prospective star therefore demands careful looking over. Nearly every one of the sixteen big league teams boasts at least one youngster who is being labeled as a coming Cobb, Maranville or Alexander. Four players mentioned in reports from the southland are apparently in line for regular jobs.

Two of the four are with the Giants and Yankees. Earl Smith, the youthful catcher, secured from Rochester, bids fair to become familiar to the fans attending the National league's Manager McGraw's second string back stop. According to present indications he will be Lew McCarty's first assistant.

HALAS WITH YANKS. George Halas, erstwhile college player, who attracted attention with the navy training station team at Chicago, is reported to have a toe hold on the light field job with the Yankees. His ability to hit consistently, however, has not been demonstrated conclusively to Miller Huggins.

Doc Kerr, a left-handed pitcher who played with the Milwaukee club last season, is striving to win a regular berth with the White Sox at Mineral Wells.

Manager Gleason is reported to be well satisfied with Kerr and predictions are made that he will be retained. George Lile, another pitcher, has pleased the heart of Lee Fout at New Orleans. Lile was a Cleveland semi-pro, before being picked up by the Indians.

Paddy Siglin Is Now Ex-Member of Holdout Club

Walter McCredie, manager of the Portland club, is the happiest person in the busy little town of Crockett today. The Portland boss received a wire this morning from Paddy Siglin, his star infielder of last season, and Paddy says he will report to McCredie immediately and leave with the team for Los Angeles Sunday night. Siglin is in condition to break into the opening game next Tuesday, as he has been working out with the Oaks and playing with semi-pro teams of the bay section.

Colored Stars Are Being Lined Up for Coming Season

"Chief" Boat and Eddie Jackson are busy these days arranging and signing up players for their all-star colored team for the coming season. "Chief" Boat, who is now in the bay section, has been working out with the Seals, getting in shape for action in case McCredie settles with him or trades him to another league.

Baum Completes His Staff of Umpires

The umpire staff for the Pacific Coast League is completed with the announcement from President Baum that Nat W. Jacob and Fred Casey were picked yesterday. Casey has done considerable umpiring in the Coast League, while Jacob will be one of the two new faces to wear the mask. Bob B. Bedford, the other new man, was chosen the day before with five others.

Beaver Castoffs Go to Vancouver

SAN FRANCISCO, April 3.—Harry Norton, Carl Walters and Charlie Doran, who worked out at the Beaver Creek camp, leave here Saturday for Vancouver, B. C. They will play with the city's Puget Sound Industrial League team.

FILLMORE STREET TAKEN "IN HIGH"

The Fillmore street hill, San Francisco, which has a 26 per cent grade, was successfully negotiated in high gear yesterday by one of the new four-cylinder Essex cars. The test was made by Robert Hill, a member of the H. O. Harrison company, and was witnessed by a large number of automobile dealers and members of the press.

The road was exceptionally smooth because of a heavy lot which in the traction difficult, and Hill was compelled to make three attempts before he finally made the top.

In the first two trials the car came close to the top, but within fifteen or twenty feet of the summit the rear wheels began to spin and Hill was forced to drop back to a low gear.

In the final climb the start was made from the Chestnut street crossing, and when the Essex reached the base of the hill at Fillmore street it was traveling at about fifty miles an hour. At the Vallejo street crossing the car was traveling about thirty miles an hour, and in making the last hill, which was particularly slippery due to the fog, it dropped down to six miles an hour just as it glided over the top.

The test was made by "Bill" Taylor, manager of the wholesale Essex division of the Harrison company.

BOY'S SHORTSTOPPING TOUR

Bobby Haven, 6 years old, saw a great deal of Oakland last night and thoroughly enjoyed himself while his parents and the police officers tried to find him. He left his home at 1579 Church street about 6 o'clock and traveled many blocks before he was found in another part of town about 10:30 o'clock. Bobby had come from his long walk and cuddled himself on the doorstep for a sleep.

BOX TEN-ROUND DRAW

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., April 3.—Hansley of Denver and Jimmy Moore of Memphis, butamuch, today fought a ten-round draw at Camp Pike last night.

Boxing Show at Martinez Friday

Tomorrow night fans of Martinez will witness the first boxing show to be staged in that town for a long while, and that the fans have gone hungry for boxing bouts is evident in the great deal of interest being taken in the coming show. Five bouts in all are to be staged under the auspices of the Martinez Athletic Club. The bouts will be as follows:

Joe Perry vs. George Hanel.
Mickey O'Connell of Martinez vs. E. Camp.
Ad. Rem vs. R. Camp of Antioch.
O. Bartolomeo of the Martinez Athletic Club vs. Knockout Myers.

Savage and Shade Battle to a Draw

Billy Shade failed to appear for his four-round engagement with Frankie Jones at the Association Club last night. Shade was substituted by Savage and held Jones to a draw. Other bouts resulted as follows:

Harry Healy won from Bill Young.
Eddie Moore defeated Roy Renner.
Paul Pollock beat Chris Derrick.
Johnny "Cine" won from Mac Dolan.
George Brannon beat Louis Williams.
Mike Moran knocked out Jerry Banks, first round.

O. C. C. Nine Will Meet U. C. 'Varsity

The Oakland Chamber of Commerce nine will tackle the University of California varsity team at Columbia field Saturday afternoon in an added attraction to the triangular track and field meet to be held there. O. C. C. nine and U. C. varsity will be the only two teams to play in the varsity level. The game will be the only one in the varsity level.

MILLIONS OF DOLLARS' WORTH OF PROPERTY WAS DESTROYED BY ENEMIES OF OUR COUNTRY THROUGHOUT THE UNITED STATES DURING THE WAR.

In Oakland where MILLIONS OF DOLLARS' worth of government work was done, NOT one dollar's worth of property was DESTROYED. This was largely due to the JUDGMENT and FORESIGHT of COMMISSIONER F. F. JACKSON in establishing a NEUTRALITY SQUAD, WAR SERVICE POLICE, and by the passage of the JACKSON ANTI-SEDITION ORDINANCE.

After the armistice, when the Bolsheviks and the I. W. W. elements attempted in Oakland to spread their propaganda, COMMISSIONER JACKSON secured the passage of the ANTI-RED FLAG ORDINANCE. By doing so he stopped the display of the Red Flag, under which standard the Bolsheviks and I. W. W. rally.

RE-ELECT F. F. JACKSON COMMISSIONER NO. 2, a man who had the JUDGMENT and COURAGE to take steps to protect you during the war and who has the COURAGE and JUDGMENT to protect you during the Reconstruction Period after the War.—Advertisement.

DOWNEY TALKS OF LOWER TAX RATES

C. Downey, candidate for mayor, last night addressed three big meetings, he spoke to a group of "G" in memorial hall, the members of the New Century Club, Fifth and Peralta streets, and the Odd Fellows at Eleventh and Franklin streets.

In his speech at the New Century Club Downey said in part:

"I will, when elected, be the mayor of all the people of Oakland. I will not represent any class or clique."

"I am a business man. I believe in public service. I believe that the municipal corporation of the city of Oakland should be conducted upon a business basis, and that it should be run with the same efficiency as a private corporation that public officials and other public servants should give the same effort to do it as they would be required to do if engaged by any mercantile establishment."

"I believe that it is possible to reduce the present high tax rate. This cannot be done, however, by eliminating help to be reducing salaries. With the present cost of living, I believe that most of the salaries paid to the employees of the city of Oakland are not too high, and that if they are cut, it will in many instances mean less than a living wage for a number of people, and will in such cases result in reduced efficiency. The way to lower the present high taxes, I believe, is to bring about a consolidation of the city and county governments. I stand for this change and will do every effort within my power to bring about such consolidation."

The present high taxes can also be lowered if the municipality will make proper use of its natural resources. The development of our harbor on the western and southern fronts is devoted to be washed. Every encouragement should be given for the purpose of increasing commerce. As mayor, I will exercise my influence and use every effort within my power to increase commerce and to properly and remuneratively improve these natural resources."

POLICE ATTACK ON PRISONERS, LEWIS DEFENSE

The trial of Leslie A. Lewis on a charge of having violated the traffic ordinances, the violation resulting in the death of a flagman at San Pablo avenue and Twenty-second streets last November, was continued today by District Attorney Theodore Witschen and his former chief, District Attorney W. H. Hynes, who is acting for the defendant.

Police Officer George Underwood was on the stand, testifying to the defendant's condition when he was taken to the jail. Underwood said he was very drunk. He related how Lewis fell when he stepped out of the elevator, and how they picked him up and set him on the bench. According to his testimony, the defendant's condition was such that he could not have sat in an automobile, let alone drive one.

"PRISONERS FOUND DEAD?" On cross-examination Hynes asked Underwood if it was true that on the night of the accident Lewis was twice knocked down. The witness denied it. He was asked if instead of falling Lewis was shoved out of the elevator and knocked down, and that these blows were the reason for his having to be carried to the bench. The witness said the only time Lewis was touched on the way up in the elevator was when he was asked to get out because he was using some language that shocked the policemen.

"Is it not true that on two or three occasions during your connection with the police and the jail, men have been arrested for being drunk, and found dead later with fractured skulls?" demanded Hynes.

"That is the most unfair question I ever heard an attorney ask," commented Witschen. "Mr. Hynes knows how to develop such facts, if such are the facts. He has had experience and knows what the grand jury is for. It is unnecessary of him to attempt to drag such stuff into this case. He did not expect an answer and knows he is not entitled to one."

WITNESS NEVER KILLED ONE. Hynes demanded that the witness answer, and contended that if it is true that men have been killed by the police and police officers because they were drunk, it would be to discredit the witness' statement that he did not kill Lewis. The witness said he never killed anyone.

Lewis on the stand for himself, declared that he was drunk when he drove his machine against another machine, causing the second machine to knock a man against a passing train and kill him. He said the other machine hit his, he admitted having had a few drinks, but "not more than on many similar occasions." By similar occasions he meant special events, when there were guests at a dinner.

He repudiated entirely the statement alleged to have been given at the time to Inspector Dodie Wulman and others, declaring that he only answered questions and that he made no voluntary statement of the affair.

Let Your Children Learn on a Good Piano

A poor piano has no musical quality of tone. This lack of tone quality is a serious menace to the "ear." Also in a poor piano the action is hard and irregular, and the fingers and hands are improperly trained. Therefore, if you intend to have your children learn to play, provide them with a good Piano. Consider quality and not cheapness. A good, reliable dealer has good Pianos at moderate (not cheap) prices, and sells them on convenient terms.

Japanese Favors Philippine Freedom Bolshevism Is Fostered in China Travelers Bring News of Far East

SAN FRANCISCO, April 3.—The coming of a number of Orientals and American travelers in the Orient in the past two days, chiefly on board the Shinyo Maru yesterday, has been accompanied by the arrival of many new data on political conditions in the Far East. These facts emerge out of the statements of those who have come.

Korean hopes for independence are not bright. Japanese complaints of bad treatment at the hands of the Koreans are balanced by charges that the Japanese are mistreating the Koreans. China fears that a policy of Chinese dismemberment has been adopted by the Japanese ministry of Japan. The Japanese administration favors an American policy looking to Philippine independence, with Japan among the guarantor nations. Japan wants, as well, a general international attitude toward China.

BOLSHEVISM IN CHINA. V. S. McClatchy, Sacramento publisher, brings an account of conditions in Korea. McClatchy, however, bringing daily accounts, he says, of attacks on Japanese merchant ships by Koreans, in which the latter are termed aggressors upon peaceful Japanese subjects. McClatchy, however, claims to have seen evidence in Seoul of Japanese oppression. He says he saw Korean girls, accused of inciting rebellion against Japanese rule, being led through the streets by Japanese gendarmes.

Professor Wong Ching Wai, Chinese educator, who also arrived on the Shinyo Maru, declared that Bolshevism has appeared in China as well as in other countries. He claimed that Japan had fostered it there. Dr. Ping Nen Kuo, a member of the Chinese educational commission, claimed the feeling against the Japanese in China was based upon political, not racial, reasons, under the conviction that "Japan seeks to destroy China's political and territorial integrity."

The bureaucratic or militaristic element in Japan which now is in power, is gradually losing strength and in ten years there will be a new government, in the opinion of Count Y. Ozaki, member of the Japanese parliament, who arrived here today.

MRS. REMSTEDT GRANTED DECREE FAIR WILL CASE TO BE COMBATTED

SAN FRANCISCO, April 3.—Mrs. Cora Remstedt, 1739 Eighth avenue, may eat all the chicken, beefsteak and frankfurters hereafter that she craves. Carl Remstedt may indulge in "dew" baths and vinegar sponges to his heart's content. Mrs. Remstedt was granted a decree of divorce from her husband on the grounds of cruelty. Henceforth the Madamam said she has no right to force Mrs. Remstedt to pick up the breakfast and pancakes of onions and prunes for luncheon and dinner. On the other hand, Mrs. Remstedt may take her 18 dogs and their millions of fleas and be free. Judge Van Nostrand so ordered yesterday.

Mrs. Remstedt objected to the presence of three other women "saints" sharing her "palace" in Stockton, where the Madamam order has its center. Moreover, she claimed that the diet of "saints" food has reduced her weight 10 pounds. The Superior Court decided that she had suffered cruelty at the hands of her husband. It offered no opinion on the subject of 18 dogs and "innumerable fleas" to which Saint Remstedt objected.

PROPER FOOD FOR ORPHANS WILL BE PLEA VAIN EFFORT MADE TO SAVE AGED CAPTAIN

SACRAMENTO, April 3.—Is the state of California rich enough to feed properly the thousands of little folk to whom the state is foster parent? That, as the California Association of Child Caring Agencies puts it, is the question that the present legislature must answer. It is to be asked with every power of appeal at a hearing by the senate finance committee tonight on senate bills 11 and 117, introduced by Senator Nealon. The bills provide for an increase to $20 of the amount contributed by state and county monthly for the care of each orphan, half-orphan and destitute child. The present amount is $11 and it is not sufficient, at present cost, to give the children the food necessary for growth and health, so say the supporters of the bills.

At present, they state, the children in many of the state institutions get only half a glass of milk a day, no butter, no eggs when prices are high and meat once a week.

FAVOR $20 TOTAL. It was brought out authoritatively at one of the recent hearings on the cost of milk—that a liberal supply of milk daily is necessary to the health of every growing child.

It is proposed to have the state pay $12.50 a month and each county $7.50 a month for the support of such child ward. The board of control favors the $20 total, but says that it should be made up by state and county, each contributing $10.

NO INCREASE SINCE 1880. The amount allowed by the state for the support of its child wards has not been substantially increased since 1880—in addition to the increased cost of living, the recent influenza epidemic has complicated the problem of supporting the children in state institutions, or under state care, by adding 1500 or more to the number that the state must support.

The California Association of Child Caring Agencies is represented at Sacramento by Mrs. Ernestine Black of San Francisco. The legislative committee on the subject has been ordered by the San Francisco, Oakland and Los Angeles chambers of commerce, the Teachers' League, the San Francisco Center of the California Civic League and social agencies and women's clubs generally. A number of these organizations will have representatives at the hearing tonight.

Deaf, Blind School Will Give Concert

Both instrumental and vocal numbers will comprise the program at the fifth annual concert of the Faculty of music of the California School for the Deaf and the Blind. It will be given tomorrow evening in the chapel of the institution at Warring and Parker streets. The participants will include Otto Pleissner, director and organist; Mrs. Jeanne E. Chapman, violinist; Mrs. Marta von Sturmer, contralto, and Miss Gussie Mast, pianist.

Pleissner is to play two numbers at the organ, including excerpts from Stoughton's "Persian Suite." Mrs. Chapman's offerings include particularly the "Panama Appassionata" of Vonstumpff and numbers by Lalo and Godard. Mrs. von Sturmer is to sing two groups of songs, and the piano numbers of Miss Mast will include "Adman, McDowell and Pessie compositions."

CLERKS HEAR ADDRESSES. Members of the Retail Clerks' Union last night at the Labor Temple heard addresses by Mayor John L. Davis, Commissioner W. H. Edwards and Commissioner F. F. Jackson.

Air Service School May Come Here 300-Acre Site Needed For Academy Eastbay Men Hear Federal Plans

Another $10,000,000 government plant is among the possibilities for the mainland of San Francisco bay. It is the "West Point of Aeronautics." This was announced today following a dinner conference last evening between Major J. R. Moulthrop of the operations division of the general staff of the United States army, officers and directors of the Chamber of Commerce, Congressman J. A. Elston, and officials of Eastbay cities.

Major Moulthrop is in Sacramento today taking the matter up with Governor Stephens. Senator A. H. Breed of Oakland and Lieutenant Governor C. C. Young of Berkeley.

FLYING CONDITIONS GOOD. At the dinner, which was held in the blue room of the Hotel Oakland and was presided over by H. C. Capwell, president of the chamber, it was explained that a bill would be introduced in the next congress appropriating $9,000,000 or $10,000,000 for an air service academy. It is considered quite likely that this school will be located in California because of the excellent flying conditions found here in the training of aviators for the war.

Major Moulthrop, in telling of the recent great strides in flying and the determination of the United States to keep stride with the advance, made the following predictions:

"That within this year air trips will be made from this city to Valparaiso and from New York to Buenos Aires in three or four days, trips that now take 30 days by water; these aeroplanes will be huge dirigibles capable of carrying passengers and freight. That within this year, the world will see the Atlantic crossed by air. That within this year, there will be completed in Europe a huge dirigible capable of crossing the Atlantic with passengers and freight and returning without stopping on this side or en route."

It is because of the rapid development of air travel that a bill will be introduced at the next session of congress having the approval of the general staff, the director of air service, and other officers prominent in air service matters, providing for the creation of an air service academy. This academy in its organization, size, and general scope will approximate the academies at West Point and Annapolis.

NOT A FLYING SCHOOL. A four-year course will be given, similar to that at West Point, except that much greater stress will be put upon the mechanical engineering feature of the training. The graduate will go out with a good general education, military training and a thorough knowledge of mechanical engineering, and especially the internal combustion engine.

The academy will not be a flying school, but either during the course or at its completion, the men will be sent to the already established flying schools, where they will learn to fly.

NEED 300 ACRES. Appointments to this academy will be made in the same manner as to West Point and Annapolis. There will probably be a constant personnel of about 2000 students, officers and enlisted men at the school. It will require some ten or twelve buildings to begin with, and more will follow.

A tract of considerable size (probably not less than 300 acres) will be needed, and while flying training would not be maintained at the school, a landing field should be available as well as ample parade and athletic grounds.

OAKLAND BOY SHOOTS HUNS IN GUN NEST

Dewey Swick of this city, member of the Sixth field artillery, proved himself really a hero in the war, in the opinion of Paul F. Collins of the educational department of the army of occupation. Collins has written home regarding Swick's exploits, adding the statement that Swick's modesty has made him refuse to let his battery commander recommend him for medals which are due him and men who participated with him.

Collins, committed at Cheppysburg, Meuse when he was acting as liaison man between the infantry company nearby and his regimental post command. Here he volunteered to strangle the wire to the advanced infantry positions. Strapping the roll of wire on his back, he went over the top with the advancing infantry just before daybreak. Collins' letter continues:

"Later in the day, Swick's line being cut by an H. E. shell, needed repairing, so he started back to splice it. He had not proceeded far when he met two other men on the same mission. Turning an abrupt point, they were greeted by a series of bullets from a machine gun."

"They immediately dived for the nearest shell hole. It was no easy task, as the machine gun was so close that the boys chose a leading and made an attempt to capture Mr. Heinie."

"They failed, so another attempt was made, and young Swick, the youngest of the three, took the center of the field without any protection and went straight ahead, while his companions flanked either side."

"The machine gun was soon reached and there lay two Heinies, both wounded; yet one of the machine gunners had a defense bomb ready to throw as a last means. Swick, who reached the pit first, was wise to their methods, so taking no chances, shot the four remaining bullets of his pistol, all of which took effect."

SLAIN BRIDE BUT 13, SAYS FATHER

The remains of Lenora Feldin Tardino, who was slain Monday by her husband, Joseph Tardino, who then killed himself, were buried today. The funeral services were conducted under the direction of the Cooks, Waiters and Waitresses' Union, of which the dead girl was a member. Burial was at Sunset View.

Full details of the tragedies that had been crammed into the dead girl's life came to light last evening at the coroner's inquest. The child bride, supposed to have been 16 years old, was in reality but 13, it developed when her father took the stand. Her mother died in her infancy, the father said, and she was brought up by an older sister, who later died.

Several months ago she married Joseph Tardino, shipworker, who shot her while she was at work as a waitress in the Overland hotel.

Gets Better After 'Death Bed' Wedding

Charles A. Pife, Oakland policeman, whose "death bed" wedding was announced yesterday, may live. Pife was married Tuesday night to Mary Elizabeth Pife, a former actress, who has decided that he could not live. The patient has taken a turn for the better.

The Effects of Opiates.

THAT INFANTS are peculiarly susceptible to opium and its various preparations, all of which are narcotic, is well known. Even in the smallest doses, if continued, these opiates cause changes in the functions and growth of the cells which are likely to become permanent, causing unbecoming, mental perversion, a craving for alcohol or narcotics in later life. Nervous diseases, such as intractable nervous dyspepsia and lack of staying powers are a result of dosing with opiates or narcotics to keep children quiet in their infancy. The rule among physicians is that children should never receive opiates in the smallest doses for more than a day at a time, and only then unavoidable.

The administration of Anodynes, Drops, Cordials, Soothing Syrups and other narcotics to children by any but a physician cannot be too strongly deprecated, and the druggist should not be a party to it. Children who are ill need the attention of a physician, and it is nothing less than a crime to dose them willfully with narcotics.

Castoria contains no narcotics if it bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. Genuine Castoria always bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.
